ent of the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 9.—
Gov. Hyde today granted 25 paroles to convicts in the State penitentiary, as his last extension of executive clemency before retiring from the office on Monday. Among them is Mrs. Aggie (Aggie) Meyers, of Kansas City, oldest woman prisoner in the United States in point of time served.Others are: Huso Plaujanin of St. Louis, who has served two years of a five-year sentence for an alleged crime of which he has been exonerated; Tony Costello of St.
Louis, Gov. Hyde's private chauffeur, who is serving a 25-year sentence for robbery; George Begley, "rice
king" of Southeast Missouri, serving a 10-year sentence for robbery; and John Thornton, St.
Louis negro, who is being paroled
the second time from a life sentence for murder.Hyde said the paroled convicts
would go out in the next few days,
as fast as he could find time to sign
final release papers.Case of Aggie Meyers.
Parole of Aggie Meyers was forecast several months ago by the Post-Dispatch. Mrs. Meyers has served 20 years and eight months
in jail or in the penitentiary since the murder of her husband, Charles Meyers, in Kansas City May 11, 1904. She first was sentenced to death, together with an accomplices, Frank Hoffman, who confessed and implicated Mrs. Meyers.
The sentences were commuted to life imprisonment by the Governor.
Hoffman died in prison about two years ago.When she goes out tomorrow,
according to prison officials, she will be accompanied by "Wiggles," her prize, who has been her companion in the prison 15 years.Case of Tony Costello.
Release of Tony Costello, the Governor's chauffeur, is in keeping with the reward of convicts accused to work "outside." Costello has been driving the Governor's car since the parole by Hyde in November, 1923, of Charles (Dutch) Fromme of St. Louis, who was serving a life sentence for murder in the killing of an unrecognized cashier in a pay roll holdup at St. Louis in August, 1914.He has served a little more than five years of a 25-year sentence for robbery in St. Louis, being sent to prison on Oct. 20, 1919.John Thornton, negro, serving a sentence of 59 years for murder in St. Louis, is receiving his second parole, after serving 16 years in prison. He was sent to prison
Nov. 14, 1908, and served 21
years, 26, 1919, when he was paroled
by Gov. Gardner.On Dec. 23, 1919, less than a month later, his parole was revoked and he was returned to prison. He has been serving as a convict uasher in the penitentiary offices.PROBABLY RAIN TURNING TO

ANDERSON CHOSEN TO SUCCEED ATKESON

Hyde Completes List of Reces.
Appointments to Be Given Legislature

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 9.
Gov. Hyde this afternoon completed his list of 63 recess appointments, to be sent to the Senate immediately for confirmation. All those named are persons who are serving in the positions at present under appointments made since the Senate was last in session, except for a new appointment to the office of Warehouse Commissioner.

Miss Emma Bobb is appointed as Republican Election Commissioner in St. Louis. She is the only person named to the Election Board, as the other present members were appointed and confirmed previously. It is not known whether the reappointment of Miss Bobb indicates that Gov. Baker is likely to name her to the board. The reappointment is for less than a week, her term expiring next Thursday.

Anderson, who is appointed Warehouse Commissioner, was employed by the Republican State Committee, last summer, to get the affidavits by which it was endeavored to connect Dr. Arthur W. Nelson, Democratic candidate for Governor, with the Ku Klux Klan. He obtained two affidavits of men whose names were on the roster of the lodge at Tipton. This statement was denied in several quarters, and did not appear to coincide with another affidavit, also denied, which was that Nelson had joined

Gov. Hyde, at Baker's request, held out from the list the names of A. J. O'Reilly of St. Louis and S. S. Connett of Faucett, as members of the Public Service Commission, also the name of Mrs. Carlin as a curator of the State University. The names of T. J. Borwn of Charleston and R. H. Musser of Plattsburg, as members of the Public Service Commission, were listed by the Gov.

No appointment to the St. Louis Police Board was included in the list, as the most recent appointee, Commissioner Howard, has resigned, signed with the others at Hyde's request, made in behalf of Baker.

St. Louis appointments were: Frank P. Haye, member Board of Corrections and Detentions; Dr. F. W. Saunders, member Nurses' Board; F. W. Arnold, Arthur H. Baer, members Commission for the Blind; F. H. Wielandy, Game and Fish Commissioner; Dr. James Stewart, member Board of Health. Dr. Sewark has been selected by the board for appointment as secretary of the board.

CONFUSION LIKELY IN DELAY OVER PRISON BOARD

Baker's Appointees Must

REQUEST FOR AID
NOV. 10 DENIED

$1,250,000 In Goods and Raw Materials Involved in Transfer When Present Directors Quit.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 9.—Due to delays in the appointment of the State Penal Board by Governor-elect Baker, not announced until yesterday, the transfer of control of the penitentiary, the largest institution and business enterprise of the State, together with approximately $1,250,000 in manufactured goods and raw materials, largely will be a matter of the retiring board greeting the newcomers with a bundle of inventories Monday and then walking out. Director H. P. Hoffman said today. Resignations of the retiring board members have been accepted by Gov. Hyde and the members plan to leave Monday, Hoffman said. The board made inventories of all assets in the manufacturing departments and had them certified to by disinterested business men of Jefferson City. Hoffman continued, after no response was received from a request to Baker on Nov. 10 last, that the men to be appointed to the board be sent to the prison to check the inventories, prepare for the transfer and familiarize themselves with the operating system.

Take Charge Over Night.
The impending transfer is equivalent, it was said, to a new board of directors, most of them with no previous experience in such work, taking charge of a large manufacturing concern over night and starting into business the following day. The industrial department of the prison annually manufactures and sells in the open market many hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of clothing, shoes, brooms and other commodities. The board controls policies, manufacturing and sales. The penitentiary, due to its size and the extent of the industries carried on with state money as working capital and reserve against loss, always has been an important factor in the success of a Governor's administration. The Penal Board has supervision over the penitentiary, two industrial homes for girls at Chillicothe and Tipton, and the boys' reformatory at Booneville.

Appointment of S. T. Nix as Warden means a large promotion for him, as he has been employed as an usher at prison, to conduct visitors through the penitentiary, at a salary of $125 a month. He formerly was a farmer. Nix was a Baker supporter in the primary campaign, a period when a number of prison employees were supporters of Lieutenant-Governor Hiram Lloyd for the nomination. A. H. Steinbeck, chosen for Parole Commissioner, now is a deputy in the office of Labor Commissioner Frank Middleton.

WARRANTS ISSUED FOR FOUR IN K. K. K. KIDNAPING CASE

Klan Chief in Colorado Among Those Accused by Student, Forced to Wed in Doctor's Office.
By the Associated Press.
DENVER, Colo., Jan. 9.—Formal charges of kidnaping and conspiracy were lodged against Dr. John Galen Locke and others, in Judge Ben R. Lindsey's Juvenile Court today, on complaint of Keith Boehm, 19-year-old Denver high school youth. The complaint alleges the men kidnaped him last Tuesday night, took him to the office of Locke, who is "grand dragon" of the Ku Klux Klan, realm of Colorado, and there forced him to marry Miss Mae Nash. Judge Lindsey immediately issued warrants calling for the arrest of Locke, William Pritz, C. A. Kirkling and an unidentified man. After Locke's arrest Governor-elect Morey signed his bond for $1000.

WILL OF MISS AMY CREVELING

A will executed ten years ago by the late Miss Amy Creveling, who was fatally injured last week in a fall at her home on Clayton road, St. Louis County, was filed in Clayton Probate Court today. The major clause of the will which bequeaths the 75-acre homestead to three sisters, is void according to her attorney, George W. Lubke, because Miss Creveling a year ago deeded this property to her mother, Mrs. Annie Creveling. The only clause which the attorney considers still effective is one which bequeaths some jewelry and money to a sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Small of Kirkwood.

Miss Creveling, a member of an

BECKER GAVE LIST FOR PLACES ON ST. LOUIS BOARDS

G. O. P. City Chairman Tells of Conferring With Governor-Elect on Police and Election Jobs.

DIDN'T CONSULT THE COMMITTEE

He Denies, However, That Nat Goldstein and Hank Weeke Aided in Selecting the 18 Names.

Louis J. Becker, chairman of the Republican City Central Committee, admitted today that he had submitted to Governor-elect Baker
in Jefferson City Wednesday a list he had personally drawn of men he believed were available for police and election board appointments. The list was not presented to the committee for approval
at its meeting Tuesday night.

August M. Brinkmann, Fourteenth Ward Committeeman, and
A. Samuel Bender, Fifth Ward Committeeman, protested in Jefferson City yesterday that Nat
Goldstein, Becker and "Hank" Weeke are attempting to act for the committee in securing appointments. State Senator Peter Anderson also disputed the right of Becker
alone to submit any list representing the desires of the City Committee. The matter has not been brought officially to the attention of Baker, however.

Admits Submitting List.
Becker said today that he had submitted a list of 18 names to Baker for consideration and did not intend to advise the committee of what had transpired until the occasion presented itself for him to talk with the members. He said there was no occasion to tell them of the list beforehand and that a report on what Baker had said was what they would want to know.

"Nat Goldstein had nothing to do with this list," Becker said.
"Hank Weeke did not see it or assist in drafting it. I put down the names of the men I thought would make good commissioners and I put down some names that other committees had put forward for consideration. Then I also consulted responsible men in St. Louis and put their recommendations down. That is the way the list was drafted."

Brinkmann, who returned to St.
Louis today, said that it was merely the "old guard" working under cover again. "For the four years
that I have been on the committee," Brinkmann said, "the actions of a certain clique have been shrouded in mystery. They never do anything out in the open. At the Tuesday meeting Becker introduced his list. He told me he was going to Jefferson City but did not say why and I did not ask him."

Some of Names Presented.
Becker said that the names of Harry Wilson, Henry Kersting,
George Elgel and Edward E. Butler, Republican attorneys, were on the list for Election Board appointments, and that Allen C. Orrick, attorney, and Philip H. Brockman, President of the Police Board, were mentioned for the Police Board. He declined to make known the other 12 names.

Goldstein has consistently discouraged making any list, and has suggested that the committee ask the privilege of endorsing names
on a list which Baker would submit to the committee.

It is the expectation that the Governor-elect will be slow to accept recommendations which do not have the approval of the Republican Senators from St. Louis, none of whom are overly friendly to him. They were supporters of Lieutenant-Governor Hiram Lloyd
and against Baker in the primary for Governor, and so far have not been brought around to a friendly feeling toward Baker.

Senate Stumbling Block.
The appointments to the St.
Louis boards will require confirmation by the Senate, and undoubtedly selections not satisfactory to the St. Louis Senators could be blocked by them. While the Democratic Senate caucus will decide who will be confirmed, that caucus probably will be influenced through senatorial courtesy by the desires of the St. Louis Senators.

Becker's action will hardly throw oil on the troubled waters that loom
in the majority primary. Committeemen will be slow to fall into line after a slight of this nature.

Two Illinois Boys Missing.
HARRISBURG, Ill., Jan. 9.—
Parents of Courtney Coughlan, 14 years old, and A. K. Wasson, 14, are searching for them. The Coug-han boy is tall and fair and has dark brown hair and blue eyes. He wore a gray cap, dark overcoat,
blue pencil stripe suit, and brown shoes. The Wasson boy is 5 feet tall and fair. He has dark brown hair and brown eyes and wore a gray cap, brown plaid suit, knee trousers, and no overcoat.

FRANCO-GERMAN TARIFF WAR
PARIS, Jan. 9.—A tariff war with Germany after tomorrow evening is expected by French officials.

CIVIC BODIES PLAN DEBATE ON NEW NAME FOR E. ST. LOUIS
Event Will Be Held in High School Auditorium Late This Month.

Twelve representatives of various East St. Louis clubs and business organizations announced at noon today that a decision had been reached to hold a debate late this month upon the question of whether the name of East St. Louis should be changed.

The event will be held in the auditorium of the East St. Louis High School and the arguments will be conducted by three men and one woman, 20 minutes being allowed for each speaker. Organizations taking active part in the affair include the Lions Club, Optimists Club, Rotary Club, Chamber of Commerce, Business and Professional Women's Association and the Downtown Business Men's Association.

For some time the practicability of changing the city's name has been under discussion, the argument in favor of it being that it is thought of by residents of other states as merely a suburb of St. Louis instead of a separate entity. Advocates of the movement hold that a new name would attract much business that is not now coming to the city. Some of the opponents base their stand on the feeling that one or two men who suggested it originally might like to have their names perpetuated in this way. Numerous names have been suggested, the most favored being St. Clair, Cahokia and Kaskaskia.

MAN PAROLE FROM BOONVILLE HELD AFTER DISTURBANCE

William Finch, 32, of 3520 Evans avenue, who said he was on parole from the Boonville reformatory, and Thomas Cook, 19, of 2600 A. Cass avenue, were arrested by Detectives Ulrich and Halpin at 7:30 p. m. yesterday upon the complaint of Henry J. Kelly, 396A Easton avenue, that the men had created a disturbance at his home and threatened him with a knife. The detectives waited at the place and took the men into custody upon their renewal of the disturbance later. Cook said he went to Kelly's home to recover a wedding ring which his wife had loaned to Kelly's sister the day before for her marriage ceremony and which had not been returned. Finch said he went along merely to keep his friend company. Both denied flourishing a knife and are being held for further investigation.

Finch was sentenced to the reformatory Nov. 21, 1923, after conviction on a charge of robbing a shoe store at 3538 Easton avenue of $25 two months earlier. He was released on a sick parole after serving several months.

ESTELLE TAYLOR, FRIEND OF JACK DEMPSEY, GETS DIVORCE
Screen Actress Who Had Been Mentioned as Pugilist's Probable Bride, Obtains Divorce.

Special to The Post-Dispatch.
PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 9.—Mrs.

Estelle Taylor Peacock obtained a divorce from Kenneth Malcolm Peacock today. Mrs. Peacock is better known as Estelle Taylor, the motion picture actress to whom Jack Dempsey, the champion heavyweight pugilist, has been attentive. It has been reported that Dempsey intended to marry the screen star as soon as she got a divorce.

The divorce suit was begun Sept. 29 and was referred to a master, who filed his report Nov. 14, recommending that a divorce be granted on grounds of "cruel and barbarous treatment."

JOSEPH JUDGE IS FORMALLY SENTENCED TO YEAR IN JAIL
Joseph Judge, convicted of fraudulent voting by a jury in Circuit Judge Wurdeman's court at Clayton, Aug. 5, 1922, was formally sentenced to one year in jail and fined $1000 yesterday by Judge

Wurdeman. He was released on $2000 bond pending an appeal to the State Supreme Court.

Because of a clerical error, Judge, who is a brother-in-law of Toney Foley, gambler and former convict, was not formally sentenced at the time of his conviction, and when the case was appealed to the Supreme Court it was dismissed because of this technicality. Judge is the only man to be convicted out of almost 100 indicted in St. Louis County on charges of fraud in the 1922 primaries. Indictments were dismissed against the others by former Prosecuting Attorney Jones on his last day in office.

SENATORS DEMAND AN ACCOUNTING OF ALL STATE FUNDS

Committee Waiting on Statements to Ascertain How Much Is Tied Up in Defunct Bank.

By CURTIS A. BETTS, A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 9.—Upon receipt, expected today, of information of the condition of the State's $500,000 deposits in defunct banks, the Senate committee appointed to investigate the responsibility for the threatened losses will begin preparation of its report.

Senator Brookshire, chairman of the committee, yesterday afternoon made formal demand on State Treasurer Thompson and State Auditor Hackmann for detailed statements of balances in all State funds, as shown by their books, and, in addition, Thompson was instructed to furnish a statement of the amount of State funds on deposit which cannot be reached by check, or, in other words, the amount tied up in banks which have failed.

The committee members, in addition to Brookshire, are Senators Herford, Wammack, Ralph and Hildreth. The committee, upon completion of the report, will be held together to consider the condition of the State's finances if C. Eugene Stephens, who, on Monday, will succeed Treasurer Thompson, receipts for Thompson for the $500,000 in closed banks represented by approximately $600,000 of securities, mostly first deeds of trust on real estate, much of which is very slow paper and some of doubtful value.

Would Demand Accounting. If Stephens receipts for the full amount of monies shown by the Treasurer's books to be in the Treasury, which includes the $500,000, it is the intention of the committee to ask for an accounting of Stephens within a few days after he takes office.

Stephens said yesterday that, in taking office he would receipt for the $500,000, but he would not begin a check of the securities for several days. He made clear that he would not "receipt for any money he did not receive."

A Republican Senator, friendly to Stephens, expressed opinion that Stephens might take no action which might affect the bond he will give as State Treasurer. Some of the committee members have discussed informally the possibility of taking steps to prevent Treasurer Thompson from assuming the office of State Auditor, to which he was elected and which he is scheduled to take over Monday, unless Stephens gives a receipt for all State funds.

The view of Senator Painter, president pro tem, is that inability to turn over the $500,000 in closed banks constitutes a technical shortage in the usual and legal sense of money wrongfully taken, but a technical shortage—and that, with the State funds in his custody in that condition, Thompson cannot not qualify for the office.

Some Options on Situation. Attorney-General Barrett expressed the opinion that it would not interfere with Thompson assuming his new duties; that, at most, it could only delay a few days the change in Thompson's official status—only until Stephens could check over the securities back of the $500,000 of deposits and assure himself they were more than sufficient to protect the funds.

Some lawyers in the Senate have raised the question as to whether Thompson's inability to take over the office of Auditor, if such inability is shown, would not constitute a vacancy in the office which Governor-elect Baker would be required to fill by appointment. Thompson said, after being informed of the introduction of the resolution, that the State would lose nothing in the closed banks, though he admitted some of the securities had been thoroughly checked by examination of records, in nearly all instances by the examination of the property back of the deeds of trust, and by information from various sources. However, even though ultimately the State obtains its funds, it will have been deprived of their use for a long time. In the case of the big deposit in the Holland Bank of Springfield the money has been tied up a year.

STARTED FORGING TO BUY SON TOY AUTO

$25-a-Week Salesman Admits Passing Six Bad Checks for Total of $600.

John W. Davis, a salesman, who has admitted forging six checks, for a total of $600.77, with the name of his employer, declared to a Post-Dispatch reporter at Police Headquarters today that he started forging in order to buy a $75 toy automobile that was keenly desired by his 9-year-old son. His boy, he said, is in the care of his sister in a town which he would not name. His wife died about six years ago. Davis said he was earning $25 a week as salesman, having been employed here for three months since his return from Arizona, where he was treated for the effects of gas. He said he suffered when serving in the A. E. F. Davis related that when the war started he was at the Government arsenal at Moline, Ill., but enlisted as a private and rose to be a Captain of heavy artillery. He said he was a graduate of the University of Michigan.

T. C. McGowan of Poplar Bluff, Mo., telephoned the police here yesterday, asking to have Davis arrested when he arrived on a train at Union Station, complaining that Davis had passed a $75 forged check on him. Accordingly, Davis was arrested at the station, at 7:45 p. m. W. H. Campbell, manager of Deihl Battery & Supply Co., where Davis was employed, told the police a number of blank checks had been taken from his office.

Davis admitted forging Campbell's name to six of the checks, and passing them in Poplar Bluff, Cape Girardeau, Delta and Greenville, Mo. He had $400 when arrested. He asserted he was returning here because he was convinced and wanted to ask Campbell to let him make good the forgeries. Davis is 35 years old and has been staying at the Pontiac Hotel.

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush Your Kidneys Occasionally by Drinking Quarts of Good Water.

No man or woman can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Too much rich food creates acids which clog the kidney pores so that they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood. Then you get sick. Rheumatism, headache, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders often come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts begin to drink soft water in quantities; also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to acids in the system so they no longer cause irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, which everyone can take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby often preventing various kidney complications. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush Your Kidneys Occasionally by Drinking Quarts of Good Water.

No man or woman can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Too much rich food creates acids which clog the kidney pores so that they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood. Then you get sick. Rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders often come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts begin to drink soft water in quantities; also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to acids in the system so they no longer cause irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, which everyone can take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby often preventing serious kidney complications. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

TENNESSEE CHIEF JUSTICE JACKSON DAY SPEAKER HERE

Judge Grafton Green Reviews Career and Pre-eminence of Late Former President.

Andrew Jackson's decisive repression of the nullification movement in South Carolina in 1832 was cited as an example of what might have averted the Civil War by Chief Justice Grafton Green of the Supreme Court of Tennessee in speaking at the thirtieth annual Jackson day banquet of the Tennessee Society of St. Louis last night.

"If the first threat of secession had been met as Jackson met the attempt of South Carolina to nullify the United States law America might have been spared the Civil War," Judge Green said. He reviewed the rise of Jackson, emphasizing the pre-eminence of "Horse-faced-Andy" at the Tennessee bar, and later on the bench. Charles M. Hay of St. Louis also addressed the 150 Tennesseans assembled at the Women's Club, 4600 Lindell boulevard. The dinner was followed by dancing.

HARDING HAD FORBES IN MIND FOR HIGH POSTS

Late President Wrote He Was Considering Him for Shipping Board and Alaskan Governorship.

APPOINTMENT GIVEN THREE WEEKS LATER

Cousin of Former Executive, on Stand in Conspiracy Trial, Denies Wooden Fleet Bribe Offer

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—Charles R. Forbes, former Veterans' Bureau Director, on trial here with John W. Thompson of St. Louis on a charge of conspiracy to defraud the Government, was considered for the governorship of Alaska, or for some other place in the Government that would "work out to the best possible advantage," according to a letter signed by President Harding and addressed to Forbes, which was offered as evidence in the trial today.

When Forbes' counsel submitted the letter during the testimony of Francis E. Pope, a cousin of the late President Harding, the prosecution objected and the objection was sustained by the court. Although not accepted as evidence, it was transcribed into the record at the insistence of the defense lawyer.

The letter is dated April 7, 1921. It tells Forbes to let the President know what he thinks of the places suggested. In a telegram which will not reveal the offers definitely, what Forbes replied was not revealed. It was exactly three weeks after the date of the letter, however, that Secretary Mellon announced Forbes' appointment as head of the War Risk Insurance Bureau, and about three months after that, when the Veterans' Bureau was formed, Forbes was made its director.

What Harding Wrote.
The Harding letter follows: "April 7, 1921.

"My Dear Forbes: "There is going to be difficulty in naming you to a membership on the Shipping Board. Of course, you know what this difficulty is. It is a thing neither you nor I can avoid. I do not care to write about it. I must, of course, be considerate of the Senators from any State and, in case of ignoring their recommendation, I cannot well choose a substitute appointment from their State. This does not preclude a very desirable attachment of your services to the Shipping Board, if that is desirable to you. It is a matter we can talk about later. Meanwhile, I have another appointment which I thought might appeal to you very strongly and I want to submit it in this confidential way. There is a very strong contention between the conflicting elements in Alaska over the governorship.

I want to appoint a fine, outstanding man, who can go there and bring about a restoration. I do not want some one to represent any interests nor go with the thought of wrecking things. I have almost made up my mind to appoint a Governor from the states. It has occurred to me that this might afford you a fine opportunity for constructive service and the making of a brilliant record. I do not want to go further in the consideration of your name in this connection unless I know that it will be agreeable to you if a decision is reached to ask you to go there and serve. I do not know that I will make such a request in the final conclusion. The thing has been in my mind, however, and I want an expression from you before I go any further. If you think kindly of it, I wish you would wire me in a way that I will understand without specifically mentioning the matter. It will be perfectly easy to say you await orders or something like that, so that I will understand if you do not want me to consider you further, please say as much, but do not refer to the name of the position in your message.

"I expect in some suitable way to bring you into the Government, and I know you want me to work it out to the best possible advantage.

"My very best regards.
"Sincerely yours,
"WARREN G. HARDING."
"Hon. Charles R. Forbes,
"Care of Spokane Club, Spokane, Wash."

Pope denies charges.
Pope demanded when the stand today that he had been offered a bribe of $1,000,000 by a syndicate formed in 1921 to purchase the Government's wartime wooden fleet. Elias H. Mortimer, Washington contractor's agent and principal Government witness, had testified on Dec. 12 that Pope had been offered the bribe for his influence with President Harding, by a ship syndicate in which Thompson, and his partner, James W.

Black, also of St. Louis, were indirectly interested.
Pope said he had been invited to participate in the syndicate, taking a one-fifth interest, but never had been offered a bribe in any form. He had approached Albert D. Laaker, then chairman of the United States Shipping Board, with an indefinite proposal for the sale of the fleet, comprising some 250 vessels, but had been informed the boats were involved in a law suit which would prevent any action for three or six months. The project then was abandoned, the witness said.

Pope identified the letter from Harding to Forbes.
A. M. Macdonald, Seattle shipbuilder and a partner in the Pope syndicate, previously had testified concerning an offer of $3000 each for the vessels for salvaging.

Lift Out Your Corns

ICE-MINT

The New Discovery Ends Foot Troubles Quickly

This new discovery, made from a Japanese product, is certainly a wonder the way it draws out inflammation from a pair of swollen, burning, aching feet. It takes the soreness right out, then the corn or callous shrivels and lifts off. Hard corns, soft corns or corns between the toes, just shrivel up and lift off so easy. It is wonderful. Just think! Not one bit of pain while applying Ice-mint or afterwards. It doesn't even irritate the surrounding skin.

It imparts such a delightful, soothing, cooling feeling to the feet that you will sigh with relief.

Ice-mint is the real Japanese secret for sore, healthy little feet. It prevents foot aches and keeps them sweet and comfortable. It is greatly appreciated by women who wear high-heeled shoes and by men who have to stand on their feet all day.

Just ask in any drug store for a little Ice-mint and give your poor, suffering, tired, swollen feet the treat of their lives. It costs little and there is nothing better.

WINNER WISHES HE HAD NEVER SEEN $20,000 PRIZE

Good Fortune Was Followed by Expensive Living, Separation From Wife, and Arrest.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 9.—Mr. and Mrs. George Elwell, facing poverty again but glad of it, today again took up their life together, after seven months of frenzied spending of a $20,000 prize awarded to Elwell, commercial artist of Youngstown, O., for naming a popular weekly, which culminated this week in Elwell's arrest on a warrant sworn out by his wife charging neglect of his four children.

Then came a reconciliation in a dingy courtroom, presided over by a Judge and probation officer. "There's only $350 left, but I've still got my health and hands," Elwell explained today. "I wish to God I'd never seen a penny of that money. It was nothing but a curse."

Mrs. Elwell echoed the sentiment. When the prize check came, Elwell bought an expensive car. Then followed weeks of life in hotels, dinners in restaurants and the purchase of drinks at bootleggers' prices. Mrs. Elwell nagged, Elwell said, and so he left home. The Court, following Elwell's arrest, ordered the remaining money impounded in court, to be used for the children.

Winnetka, Ill., Model Suburb. By the Associated Press.
EVANSTON, Ill., Jan. 9.—Winnetka, Ill., is the "model American suburban city," according to Prof. William L. Bailey, Northwestern University sociological expert, who has completed a study of cities in the United States. The best of New England traditions, of the free church, of the town meeting, the library, the village improvement association, and the public school have found a favorable opportunity for expression there, he said.

MAN, 72, INJURED BY AUTO JAN. 1, DIES IN HOSPITAL

Driver of Machine That Fatally Struck James A. Medearis Is Rearrested for Coroner.

ANOTHER VICTIM MAY LOSE BOTH LEGS

Pedestrian Taken to Hospital in Serious Condition After Being Run Down by Auto.

James A. Medearis, 72 years old, who resided with his son, R. G. Medearis, 4917 Maple avenue, died at the city hospital at 4 p. m. yesterday of injuries suffered in a New Year's day traffic accident when he was knocked down by an automobile on Kingshighway near Cates avenue.

Medearis, who worked at odd jobs in the vicinity, was on his way to the home of a neighbor to fire a furnace about 5 p. m. on Jan. 1 when struck by a Ford coupe being driven south in Kingshighway by Harry Vordenfeld, 37, of 3939 Sullivan avenue, a salesman. He was taken to the hospital with a fractured ankle, internal injuries and numerous cuts and bruises. Vordenfeld was arrested, gave bond and was rearrested today for the coroner. He said the man ran out of the path of the machine and then became confused and stepped back in front of it.

Man Hit by Auto May Suffer Loss of Both Legs.

Hugo Frederichs, 65, of 3006 Sheandoah avenue, is in a critical condition at the city hospital, and amputation of both his legs may be necessary as a result of injuries suffered at 6 p. m. yesterday, when he was knocked down by an automobile while crossing Broadway at 11th street.

Howard Oet, 28, of 4446 Virginia avenue, driver of the machine, swerved in an effort to avoid striking the man and crashed into the corner of a building occupied by the Bottle Supply Co., damaging the car $100 and the building $50. Frederichs suffered a fractured skull, fractures of both legs and internal injuries.

LEGLESS KEY TAG MAKER FOUND TO BE QUITE PROSPEROUS

Persons who have ordered key ring tags or other name plates from Charles R. Bowman, R. F. D. No. 2, Little Rock, Ark., "the legless key tag maker," as he styles himself in circulars, a number of which have been received here through the mails recently, have not been dealing with a poverty-stricken, unfortunate, but with a "manufacturer" who makes a good living, and whose family drives about in a motor car.

This fact has been determined by the Better Business Bureau from the Little Rock Chamber of Commerce, after a copy of the circular, bearing the picture of the key ring maker, his wife and six small children, had been received from a St. Louis man who asked that the proposition be investigated.

In reply to a letter from the bureau, asking if the man was worthy of business given him on a plea of charity, the Little Rock organization wrote that he did not seem to be in want and gave details concerning the motor car and other evidences of prosperity. The man is legless and has a large family, however.

According to the letter, postal authorities have investigated and have not seen fit to deprive him of the use of the mails.

The letter, signed by C. F. Holland, manager, concludes: "Personally, I do not approve of the plan and I am sure that I would not advise anyone to purchase his key ring."

James Branch Cabell a Jurymen.
By the Associated Press.
RICHMOND, Va., Jan. 9.—James Branch Cabell, novelist, temporarily has abandoned writing under an order of court. The plea that he was busily engaged in writing a novel he must deliver at an early date failed to exempt him from jury service.

FINED $30,000 ON CHARGE OF DISCONTINUING TWO TRAINS

Missouri Pacific Officials Here Say Action in Louisiana Probably Is Based on Time Changes.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Jan. 9.—The Louisiana Public Service Commission at Baton Rouge has fined the Missouri Pacific Railroad $30,000 for discontinuing two trains between Alexandria and Jones, La., without permission.
Official notification of any action of the Louisiana Commission has not been received at the general offices of the Missouri Pacific here, it was announced. Officials of the railroad said, however, they do not understand the report for the reason that the matter of changing train schedules was discussed with the commission before the new New Orleans-Kansas City service was inaugurated, and it was understood that the changes and improvements in the schedules were satisfactory. It was further explained that what really happened was that the time and number of one train in each direction was changed and new time and new numbers given them, and they were made a part of the improved through service between New Orleans and Kansas City.

MAN FOUND POISONED BY GAS

Frank Zengel, 66, 1306 South Third street, was found unconscious from gas in an occupied building.

building which he owns at 3219 Liberty street, at 6:30 p. m. yesterday. On regaining consciousness he explained that he had gone to the building to thaw out gas pipes and had forgotten to turn the gas off after the pipes were cleared.
Zengel is retired and owns several pieces of South St. Louis rental property.

HOW DOCTORS TREAT COLDS AND THE FLU

To break up a cold over night or to cut short an attack of gripe, influenza or sore throat, physicians and druggists are now recommending Calotabs, the nauseless Calomet tablet, that is purified from dangerous and sickening effects. Those who have tried it say that it acts like magic, by far more effective and certain than the old style calomel, heretofore recommended by physicians.
One or two Calotabs at bed time with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with eating, work or pleasure. Next morning your cold has vanished and your system feels refreshed and purified. Calotabs are sold only in original sealed packages, price ten cents for the vast-pocket size; thirty-five cents for the large family package. Recommended and guaranteed by druggists. Your money back if you are not delighted.

WOMEN SUPREME JUSTICES
GRANT WRIT IN LAND CASE
After Brief Consultation to Hear Appeal in Texas Litigation.

AUSTIN, Tex., Jan. 9.—The word
"granted" printed in red ink by a stamp on an application for writ of error, represents the first decision in the United States rendered by a State Supreme Court comprising only women.
The three special Supreme Justices appointed by Gov. Neff to hear the case of Johnson vs. Barr, involving Woodmen of the World property in El Paso County, declined yesterday after a brief consultation to grant the writ, thus preventing the case to come up on appeal. Had the writ been denied the women would not have had an opportunity to hear oral arguments and decide the case on the merits. The case will be heard Jan. 30.
Required only a few minutes
the women judges to decide the El Paso Court of Civil Appeals apparently had rendered a decision in the case comprising Mrs. Horace Ward, Special Chief Justice,
Mrs. Ruth Brazill and Miss Hattie Stenberg, all attorneys.

New Proof of Einstein's Much-Disputed Theory

Prof. Michelson Tells of Tests by Which Light Rays Were Sent Through Mile-Long Vacuum.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—One more striking confirmation of the Einstein theory of relativity has been found in the experiments conducted by Prof. Albert A. Michelson of the University of Chicago, he announced in a lecture.
The announcement last night was provisional, Prof. Michelson said, but results obtained through a series of tests covering more than six months, have indicated to him and his associates that the Einstein theory, as well as the ether drift theory, were correct.
The test was to be determined whether the motion of the earth influenced the velocity of light, as it related to the Einstein theory.
The ether drift experiment, as it was called, was described.

Two beams of light were thrown
by mirrors in opposite directions
through a 5300-foot vacuum tube,
which had required identical time
to make the trip and reached their starting place together, a possible loophole in Einstein's theory had been found. Prof. Michelson said that in none of the tests thus far had the two beams come home together.

Flight of Beams Registered.
The register in the flight of these beams was an instrument known as the interferometer, which Prof. Michelson has been perfecting for 40 years. Through it was visible a white circle striped with vertical fine lines, like hair drawn finely across the face of an oval mirror. These were called interference fringes, due to the fact that if the beams reached home at

TAX OF YEAST CONCERN INVESTIGATED

Committee Asks Why Small Settlement Was Made on Industrial Alcohol Tax.

Post-Dispatch Bureau,
20-23 Wyatt Building.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Investigation of the prohibition unit
by Senator Couzens' special committee is turning at the moment on the case of the Fleischmann company, of yeast cake fame, testimony having been presented to the committee in executive session that Secretary Mellon and Internal Revenue Commissioner Blair recently compromised for $15,000 a Government claim of $227,000
against the concern.
While the explanation by Internal Revenue officials is that compromises are a rule in cases that might be hard to win in court, Couzens is asking for details as to why so small a settlement was accepted.
Earl J. Davis, the committee's counsel, opened the Fleischmann case by testifying that one of the greatest leaks of bootleg liquor is in the industrial alcohol business.
"There is one case alone," he said, "in which alcohol, which improperly diverted to the extent of over 400,000 gallons. That is the Fleischmann company case. One gallon of alcohol will make two gallons of whiskey."

"The Fleischmann company," he went on, "has branches around the country and the diversion takes place in this way. A legitimate permit will be granted, say to A.
He may be engaged in some business where they use alcohol. That permit might call for 10 gallons.
Then behind that a forged permit comes along in the hands of B, and that permit will call for 1000 gallons of alcohol, and the alcohol is obtained on the forged permit."
"I have cited the Fleischmann case as an example of what happens in the matter of industrial alcohol."
Couzens said he could not understand how there was room for compromise in this instance, as there is a fixed tax of $2.20 for every gallon of alcohol legitimately
sold, and the Fleischmann concern disposed of enough to call for a tax payment of more than $1,000, 000. If the alcohol is sold illegally it is $16.40. The Government's claim was for $227,000 if based on 434,000 gallons illegitimately shipped.

SHEFFIELD PRAISES POLICIES OF NEW MEXICAN PRESIDENT

U. S. Ambassador Asserts Calles
Will Promote Era of Peace

By the Associated Press.
MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 9.—President
Calles will promote an era of peace and prosperity in Mexico, already exhibits a strength in his public dealings which indicate a permanent cure for Mexico's international troubles, James Rowell Shef-

today.
American-Mexican relations un-

MOSCOW GRANTS PEASANTS WIDER RIGHTS AT POLLS

Ruralists Will Be Permitted to Name Own Candidates in Opposition to Communists.

IS MOVE TO QUIET GROWING PROTEST

Other Concessions to Be Made in Effort to Win Great Rural Population
to Bolshevism.

By the Associated Press.
MOSCOW, Jan. 9.—At an important conference now in progress at the Kremlin between soviet officials and representatives of the peasantry, looking to a more complete sovietization of the villages,
wider application of bolshevism
and greater privileges and justice to peasants, it was decided to give the peasantry a more active part in Russian elections, permitting
them to name their own candidates
as opposed to purely communistic candidates.
Hereafter, it was decided, whenever 30 per cent or less of the population participates in elections,
such elections will be declared null and void. The peasants are also to be granted what the bolsheviks term "greater revolutionary justice" and the opportunity to exercise their free will and justice. They will be given an increasing share in the affairs of the country, and an effort will be made to lighten
their taxation and other burdens.

A Swing to the Right.
Political observers here see in this movement a tendency of the communist party and the Government to swing to the right in order to win the active support of the rural population. Realizing that, because of their illiteracy lack of political consciousness and other reasons, the greater part of the peasantry remains indifferent to bolshevism, the Government has from time to time sought various formulas for persuading the rural element to adopt the communistic doctrine.

The so-called new economic policy was a step in this direction, but today's action at the Kremlin confirms the policy of involving wider concessions to the agrarian population than any heretofore granted.
It presages, many believe, a distinct departure of the Government from the strict principles of the doctrine of bolshevism which have hitherto been in force.

Voice of Protest.
The Government of the commu-
nistic party is said to realize that the success of bolshevism and the proletarian dictatorship depend ultimately upon political and social contentment and the unity of the rural inhabitants who form 85 per cent of the population. In spite of the fact that the proletarianization
of the country has been in progress
for seven years, the communists are believed to recognize that their task of converting the whole country to bolshevism has only begun.

MEXICO, Jan. 9.—Vicente
Blasco Ibanez, the author, is now guarded day and night by detectives at his villa here. There is real fear of a Spanish Royalist coup
which might take the form of kidnaping and rushing to Italy, the lethargic enemy of King Alfonso and the Rivera dictatorship over the frontier to Italy, a few miles away. There Dictator Mussolini would certainly raise no difficulties
or obstacles to the smuggling through of the novelist to Spain
and to the mercies of his imitator, Dictator Curiel.

Adventures of the Round-the-World Flyers NELSON SHOWS SKILL WHEN ENGINE FAILS OVER DESERT

Flight to Safe Landing Away From Sand Dunes
of Sind Made Amid Spurring Oil and Flying Metal of Broken Motor.

By LOWELL THOMAS.

Copyright, 1925, by the Chicago Tribune
Newspapers Syndicate and the McClure Newspapers Syndicate.
THERE isn't a white woman in Multan," said Lieut. Wade in describing the brief sojourn of the world flyers in the midst of the Sind desert. "Not only is it the hottest place in India, but it is also the most inhospitable, so far as the natives are concerned. The British military cantonment is several miles from the walled town, with its mud and brick houses, and its bazaars of the coppermiths and silversmiths where the swarthy men of the desert smoke charas in their hookas and dream of winning favor with Allah by silencing
the throat of some dog of a Christian."

"No British soldier dares enter the Multan bazar alone. But we were curious to see what an Indian city in this remote corner of Hin-dustan might look like. So the Colonel placed motor cars at our disposal and sent an escort with us.
As we hooked our way slowly
through the ebb and flow of Central Asian commerce, past stalls of fruit vendors, and merchants with bulging turbans who squat in the midst of their lentils, rice, tea, silks, wood carving and metal work, the people scowled at us. Although their costumes, the camels and asses nosing their way through the throng, and the picturesque balconies made us feel like modern Haroun al Raschids in some land of the Arabian Nights, the glower-ing looks on the faces of the inhabitants made us glad to get back to the security of the British cantonment."

Perfect Dinner in Desert.
The officers stationed at this desert post in the desert wanted to enjoy the rest of their well-earned holiday by indulging in highly intolerable existence by entertaining us that night. Smith's broken rib made it advisable for him to stay away, and Erik and I went to the bazaar to see what was possible, in order to be in shape for the Arabian Sea. So 'Les', 'Hank', Jack, and Linton Wells, our journalistic stayaways, were delegated to the bazaar.

"According to 'Les' Arnold, this desert dinner was one of the most impressive parties that they had attended up to this time. It was held in a room of the bazaar under overhanging eaves, and the tables were laid with spotless linen and silver that might have graced the palace of a king. In the center were many magnificent, regal, tropical flowers. Over us waved enormous pinks to keep us cool and drive away
the mosquitoes, gnats and other insects that filled the air. Our hosts were smart, white, full-dressed men in uniforms and their regimental badges played near by.

The dinner was a picturesque and impressive event. The only unpleasant incident of the evening was when a lizard crawled up the leg of Jack's trousers. He was nearly frightened out of his clothes, and, of course, had visions of its being the deadly krat, the king of the desert.

LIFE IS MORE PLEASANT FOR MODEL PRUSSIAN PRISONERS Men Who Show Inclination to Study Are Given Reduction in Working Hours.

By the Associated Press.
BERLIN, Dec. 22.—Prussian prisoners are now making the life of well-behaved prisoners much easier
and endeavoring to lead prisoners
back to normal life by modifying their punishment to the same degree that they show themselves worthy of confidence.
The hair of prisoners is no longer shaved off, and light rooms are given with flowering plants are given to wrongdoers who behave themselves and are industrious.
Imprisonment in darkened rooms
has been abandoned entirely. Working hours are reduced from ten to nine daily in the case of men who show an inclination to study, and conduct themselves in an orderly manner when not at work.

LIEUT. SMITH IN FLYING CLOTHES.

tiny snake Kipling tells about, or at least a scorpion or a centipede.
While the rest of us were trying to catch the lizard as it raced from one part of his clothes to another, Jack did the finest imitation of a Russian dance I ever saw.

Too Hot to Sleep.
"None of us slept much that night. The temperature hovered around 97, 98, and 99 degrees until morning. So we nearly sweated in spite of the natives who waved pinks over us all night long. We were up at daybreak and off for Karachi at 6. On this trip we flew down the valley of the Indus River and across the Sind Desert. But this time we were lucky enough to miss the sandstorms, several of which we saw on both sides of the valley."

"Although we flew at an altitude of nearly 5000 feet the temperature
in our cockpit must have been over 100 degrees. So as the hours went by we felt as though we were being cooked alive.
"Everything went along fine until we were about an hour out of Karachi. It was the Fourth of July, and Erik suddenly decided to have a noisy celebration. Lowell and I were up ahead and didn't notice what had happened until the Boston came alongside and Wade signaled us. Looking back, we saw huge spurts of white smoke pouring from the New Orleans. Slowly, we dropped back and flew around Erik and Jack. We could see oil all over the side of the ship
and had a fair idea of what had occurred. The country over which we were then flying was wild desert. But instead of sand dunes
the ground was baked and full of quills, and if they had been forced to land the plane would have been wrecked and both of them injured

—probably killed.

Engine Goes to Pieces.
"Thirty-five miles or so to the east of us we knew there was a railway line, the Northwestern,
which runs from Lahore to Karachi. So Erik signaled that he wanted to get over there and follow the railway line to Karachi, so that in case of a forced landing he would have at least a line of communication. To have crashed in many parts of the Sind desert
over which we were flying would have meant days of waiting until relief could arrive by camel caravan. In the meantime he and Jack would have been without food or water."

From Erik and Jack I heard their more intimate story of this adventure. Erik first knew he was in for trouble when his motor began to sputter. Throttling back he descended in order to look for some possible place to land.
There was none. So he headed east toward the railroad. When he increased the revolutions pieces of metal started flying from the engine and also shot out through the exhaust pipes, nearly hitting Jack, who had his head over one side of the fuselage at the moment.
It was all he could do from then on to keep her at 1400 revolutions, just enough to fly on without losing altitude. All the rest of the way to Karachi the motor kept rumbling and staggering and sputtering in an alarming manner.
Jack passed Erik a piece of chesse-cloth every few minutes so he could wipe the oil off his goggles.
Clouds of it kept flying back from the engine and both of them expected their ship to be torn to pieces by flying pieces of metal at any moment.

What had happened was that one cylinder had burst, completely disintegrated, and then started flying through the exhaust. The engine
Then two others went to pieces.
One of the flying chunks of metal tore a hole in the wing. Another hit a strut, and a third nearly hit Jack.

Remarkable Feat of Flying.
According to Linton Wells, the stayaway, who was flying alongside in the "Boston," Erik gave a remarkable exhibition of flying and nursing his engine. First he would shoot down for 500 feet or so, then he would straighten out and merely use his momentum to bring the plane up half the distance lost in dropping. Then he would shoot off again with the wind, and so on, always plunging a little ahead. For 75 miles he kept this up until he successfully brought her to the ground at Karachi, covered with oil
from nose to tail, and punctured with holes.

There was a large crowd waiting on the landing field at Karachi.
Among them was the American Consul, who came over to present Commander Lowell Smith with a cable from Gen. Patrick. It said that permission was granted that he and Linton Wells to accompany the world flight. But in the meantime Wells had flown nearly 2000
miles in the "Boston" and had won the honor of being the first aerial stayaway.

Karachi was to be the last stop
in India, and from here the route of the American flyers lay across Baluchistan and the coast of Bagdad
and the ancient Garden of Eden.

EXTENSION OF U. S. CLAIMS TO 40 YEARS DISCUSSED

Paris Negotiations, on American Right to Share
in Dawes Plan Proceeds, Progress.

ENVOYS REPORT TO WASHINGTON

Preparations Made for Plenary Session of Finance Ministers' Conference Monday.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, Jan. 9.—Important ca-blegrams are on the way to Washington regarding the progress of the negotiations between the American and British financial conference delegates over the contested
right of the United States to share in the Dawes plan proceeds. Frank B. Kellogg, American Ambassador to Great Britain, who is here for the conference, had a talk with James A. Logan jr., also of the American delegation, this morning.
Present expectations are that the conference will close by Wednesday, and delegates are making preparations to leave Wednesday night to submit conclusions of the conference to their respective parliaments.

The Anglo-American negotiations continue to make headway, many questions of detail already being settled. Of those remaining, the principal one is said to be whether extension of the time of the Wadsworth agreement for repayment in 13 years of the American occupational army costs should be to 24 years or to a longer period, up to 40 years.

First in discussion of the disposal of the Dawes plan proceeds comes Belgium's percentage of receipts from Germany, which raises the whole question of such disposal, and second comes the question of the German reparations
to the Ruhr occupation, a question which may be postponed, as proper examination of the books will, it is believed, require months. The American claims come third, the cost of the occupation fourth; recovery of amounts collected in excess of claims fifth; the Belgian war debt sixth, and restitution of industrial machinery and the like
removed from the occupied region
by Germany seventh. Experts are ready to put into proper form the agreements reached by the principal delegates so they can be dealt with at the plenary session Monday. The growing hope of the present meeting is that it will create a favorable atmosphere for discussion of the larger issue of the international debts.

Churchill Has Plan to Lamp All Occupation Costs

Copyright, 1925, by the Press and Pulitzer Publishing Co., Inc., and the Post-Dispatch.
PARIS, Jan. 9.—Winston Churchill, British Chancellor of the Exchequer, has a new scheme for splitting reparations. He wants to abolish all priorities except the service on the loan to Germany, which, under the Dawes plan, has a first lien on German resources.
He proposes to lump all the costs
of the armistice occupation, including the American occupation, into various allied commissions, each with the common claims and divide the whole sum obtained from Germany according to the agreement of Spa made in 1919. This fixed the percentage each allied nation was to receive.
Churchill in his conversations with French Finance Minister Clementel has taken the position there is no hurry about discussing reparations. His failure to take more advantage of his constant contact with Clementel to push the best issue has aroused the belief
he prefers to see the Franco-American negotiations turn out. He is getting compliments on his attitude. The Journal des Debats, comparing the way England and America handle debts, remarks
that the United States negotiates with thunderclaps and insistence on every cent, while France makes timid advances and stupid withdrawals. This contrasts with the "elegant composure" of the British Finance Minister.

Cash Bonus Amendment Offered.
By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—An amendment to the loan bonus act
to permit World War veterans to obtain cash for insurance certificates at their current value at the end of three years was introduced yesterday by Senator Jones (Dem.
New Mexico). Cash value of the certificates would be figured on the basis of ordinary rates in use
by old line insurance companies.
Under the law at present policies cannot be cashed until 20 years after the date of issuance.

By the Associated Press.
ST. LOUIS, Jan. 9.—The First National Bank of St. Louis, which has a capital of $50,000,
failed to open for business this morning. A notice said the affairs of the institution had been turned over to a national bank examiner.
Poor collections are given as the cause of the bank's embarrassment.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Streets Can Be Cleaned.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

REFERRING to the editorial on the disgraceful condition of the streets from the recent sleet and snow storm, leaving slush and mud, and apparent failure of concerted effort being made by the city officials to improve the conditions. Do you recall how James C. Travilla, former Street Commissioner, handled similar conditions and successfully? Also how the Street department functioned and prospered during his term of office? He always kept within his appropriations and out of it managed to purchase and introduce new street-cleaning apparatus. He served under both Republican and Democratic administrations with success.

Here is a practical man of experience in handling executive business supervision, not in politics, and not connected with any political machine, on which all parties—Republican, Democrat and Independent—could unite for election as Mayor of the City of St. Louis. Why could not he be considered among those suggested for the nomination of Mayor to be voted for in the spring election?

Charlotte Rumbold Playground.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

IN view of the fact that a new playground site has been obtained in the southern part of our city, I suggest that it be named after the woman who was the pioneer of playground work in St. Louis, namely, the "Charlotte Rumbold Playground."

Miss Rumbold worked unselfishly for the betterment of social conditions in St. Louis. Playgrounds, public baths and social centers were started under her supervision. There are only a few persons who really know that the credit of these wonderful achievements are due to the untiring efforts of this wonderful person. Therefore, let us have the playground named "Charlotte Rumbold."

Magazines for Hospitals.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I HAVE often read through the Peoples' Column the request for magazines for the hospitals. etc. Now, on Grand and Olive street is a large box for magazines, but the trouble is one can't always go to that place, so I was wondering if you would publish this in the column and perhaps the people who have charge of those boxes would see that there is one placed at Hadamont and Easton, for I'm sure the folks out there would be glad to keep the collector busy. It would be fine if we could have one of these boxes at each principal transfer point. The patients at the hospitals would appreciate our late number magazines that we usually throw away.

Here's hoping Wellington gets its own box. In the meantime, where can the magazines be sent?

Organ Recitals at Christ Church.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I WISH to call the attention of the people of St. Louis to the organ recitals given at Christ Church Cathedral, Thirteenth and Locust streets.

The attendance is nonsectarian. The church announcement reading, "Everybody welcome," "From the Land of the Sky-Blue Water" (Cadmán) and "March in E Flat" (Schumann).

These recitals have not had as large an attendance as they deserve, for the reason, I suppose, that not enough people know of them.

The organist, Arthur Davis, is a fine player, and this letter is in appreciation of his playing.

I know of no better place to spend a pleasant half hour than in the beautiful and historic old cathedral.

Programs are played every day (excepting Saturday and Sunday) at 12:15 to 12:45.

Imaginary Bus "Earthquakes."

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

A PROPERTY OWNER'S letter of Jan. 6, in reference to earthquakes on Shaw avenue caused by the buses has been noted by the writer. I also am a property owner and the same bus line passes my home.

In all fairness to the People's Motor Bus Co., would you say that I cannot understand how any person can make a statement of that kind. I am an invalid, spending all my days and nights in a front bedroom. These buses pass the house every 10 minutes and I have never been able to detect the least vibration from them, and would not realize they are passing unless I look up and see them. In fact, trucks and even pleasure cars cause a vibration which is never made by the buses.

Therefore I am not worried about the damage the buses do to our streets.

MR. COOLIDGE'S VICTORY.

Mr. Coolidge has won. His veto of the bill increasing the pay of postal clerks and carriers was sustained in the Senate by one vote. But it was not a victory for the new Coolidge created by the November mandate. It was a victory of pork sausage and the buckwheat cake. Even those bounteous spreads would have failed, as our Washington correspondent has pointed out, if it had not been for the political skill, parliamentary vigilance and personal popularity of Senator Curtis. At that the veto survived by the narrowest margin. And despite the Coolidge victory the fact remains that Congress is in favor of giving the ill-paid postal employees something like a fair deal.

It may be conceded, however, that in having that stanch old Tory, Curtis, for a majority leader in the Senate Mr. Coolidge's proverbial luck is still hitting on all cylinders. Yet it simply is not in the nature of things that such luck will never weary. Soon, very soon, the President will have to depend for support on the merits of his policies and the vigor and capacity of his own leadership. He cannot always win by provender, or proxy, or fortuitous circumstance. This one-vote margin by which he saved his face on the very heels of the thundering November mandate should cause him to go to the polls deeply as to how he is going to make a success of his administration. It ought to make him reflect upon the meaning of the November election.

Was that verdict an expression of public confidence in Mr. Coolidge? Manifestly his own party in Congress does not so construe it. If it did a Republican Senate would not have morally repudiated him in this first test. This half-line Senate response emphasizes the fact that the fear of La Follette, the dread of an indecisive result at the polls, with its consequent turmoil and uncertainty, bulked large in the November decision. But with the pompous spectre safely cloistered it is obvious that President Coolidge is cast for a different part than he played as a candidate. He is, or is about to be, strictly on his own. Plainly, if he is to have the support of Congress there must be program and executive leadership capable of commanding that support.

It is no easy task that Mr. Coolidge faces. It cannot be met with faded partisan formulae. The Democratic party, since the election, has been buried frequently. Many obituaries, tearful and cheerful, have been pronounced. But the Republican party's position is hardly less precarious. Apparently, our partisan political structure that has weathered the storms of more than 60 years is cracking. That is the portent, at least, of Mr. Coolidge's shadowy victory in the Senate. Unless Mr. Coolidge demonstrates real greatness as President in his own right, as all thoughtful citizens sincerely hope he will, the Republican party will presently be sharing the Democratic party's shroud.

PUBLIC OFFICE AS PERSONAL PROPERTY.

W. O. Atkeson, State Warehouse Commissioner has refused to play political ball. He "respectfully declines" to give up his office at the request of Gov. Hyde. This may be poor sportsmanship. He owes his appointment to the Governor, and the Governor, to ingratiate himself with the Baker machine for future political enterprises, wants to hand the unoccupied and unencumbered office to his successor as one of the spoils of victory.

Atkeson has crabbled the game. He was appointed for a term which does not expire until two years from April. He takes the law for what it says. He denies guilt of official misconduct and is not charged with it. His nomination still lacks confirmation by the Senate, but in that Democratic body he may have as good a chance as any other Republican. This does not alter the principle of Gov. Hyde's intention to take away what he has given, without regard to any consideration of public service.

Atkeson has forced the issue: Are public appointments by the Governor the personal property of the Governor? By no rule of law or logic can they be so regarded. But in his mad preliminary drive for the senatorship Mr. Hyde has blinded himself to everything but his own interest.

WHOSE DUTY TO CLEAN SIDEWALKS?

"A Worried Landlord" writes the Post-Dispatch that he does all he can to keep the sidewalks fronting his property clean of snow and ice, but thinks it is unfair to put the entire burden of this duty on the property owner.

The sidewalk-cleaning ordinance, Sec. 1313 of Article 12, does not appear to be generally known. It does not demand that the property owner alone shall have sidewalks cleaned. It places the duty on "the owners or agents or occupiers of premises or tenements or vacant lots." The duty includes the cleaning away of "mud, dirt and filth," as well as snow and ice. And this is to be done immediately after a snowfall. The treading of snow into filthy slush is one of the worst winter nuisances. Where houses are occupied by more than one tenant, the section makes it the duty of those occupying the rooms nearest the street to comply with the ordinance. The penalty for noncompliance is a fine of $5 to $20.

This divides the burden so that it might be easier, but at the same time makes it more difficult to get a conviction for noncompliance. If the public authorities, schools, churches and other institutions would set a better example of obedience to this ordinance, we might hope for its general observance.

IS HEALTH WORTH WHILE?

Do people want to add 20 years to their lives by paying the price of good health? This subject was discussed recently at a banquet of distinguished octogenarians in the East. Is good health, regardless of longevity, worth the alleged sacrifices required for its preservation?

Those who would answer these questions in the affirmative, who care enough about health and happiness to forestall disease or who are concerned in their children's health will regard as a genuine opportunity the free health lectures offered the public by the Extension Division of Washington University at the Medical School, Scott and Euclid avenues, on Thursday evenings at 8:15, beginning Jan. 15.

Microbes, germs, what had posture does, "can prevent heart disease," skin diseases, glands and "that nuisance, the nose," are subjects that will be discussed by experts. It is opportunities such as these which substantiate the claim that health can be had by those who want it and who begin wanting it early enough.

CONVICT COMMONWEALTH.

Some one of our 48 allegedly sovereign states has imminent opportunity to serve ignominiously through self-sacrifice. The Department of Justice is perplexed over the problem of finding prison room for Federal convicts. Commenting upon this remarkable situation, Federal Judge Faris of St. Louis is quoted as saying:

"It occurs to me that if the so-called crime wave keeps up we shall have to fence in some state to make room for our convicts."

The learned Judge's suggestion is interesting but perhaps hardly practicable. Upon consideration, serious difficulties arise. Firstly, what sort of raw material should be used in building the state-inclosing fence? Obviously, a stone wall, thick and high, suggests itself; but the cost probably would be prohibitive. Whatever we may be in retrogresiveness, we are not so industrious and so tractable as were the ancient Chinese wall builders. Barb wire, of course, would leave too many loopholes for escape. The old-time rail fence, staked and ridged, might suggest Lincolnian patriotism, but that would hold no appeal for a violator of Federal statutes. Perhaps a fence of electric wires, highly charged, would solve the problem.

Now that we have, let us assume, the fence built around the state, what state shall we set apart as a Federal prison? Rhode Island, our littlest one, is eliminated because it is too small. Texas, on the other hand, would require too much wire and electricity. However, that State is so vast that the criminals could lose themselves in it, which is an argument for its use. But, in any event, we should have to "ask Ma," who is said to wield a wicked rolling pin.

Missouri, being the Center State, is geographically the logical candidate, but for purely selfish reasons we refuse to nominate Missouri. Arkansas, in location, is almost as eligible as Missouri; but how would good citizens with rheumatism get to Hot Springs if the State were fenced off for convicts? We opine that Mr. H. L. Mencken's vote would be for Georgia, which he regards as our most benighted community. While we are not formally nominating Georgia, it may be pointed out that her selection would be advantageous from the viewpoint of fencing in the headquarters of the Ku Klux Klan, incidentally.

After all, we feel that it is wiser and safer to leave the choice of Convict Commonwealth to Judge Faris, who is under special Federal protection.

FORD AND CO-OPERATIVE MARKETING.

Henry Ford's anti-Semitic campaign has gone off at a tangent which brings upon him the threat of a million-dollar libel suit. Aaron Spiro, the author of the threat, objects to such statements as:

This whole Kahn-Baruch-Lasker-Rosenwald-Spiro program is carefully planned to turn over to an organized international interest the entire agricultural industry of the republic. Between the lines one reads the story of the Jewish communistic movement in America which seeks to make of the United States what it has already made of Russia.

Spiro is an organizer of agricultural co-operatives, such as the Raisin Growers' Society of California and the Burley Tobacco Growers' Association of Kentucky. He and the other men mentioned by Ford are deeply interested in the success of the co-operative marketing movement, which has already put millions of dollars into the farmers' pockets.

While Ford cites Kahn, Baruch and Spiro as leaders of this movement, he neglects to add certain other names, such as ex-Gov. Frank O. Lowden, Herbert Hoover, Secretary of Agriculture Gore and even President Coolidge. Within the past week the last three have made speeches in advocacy of the co-operative marketing principle.

In view of Ford's statements, two points should be made: First, that the leadership of the movement is not confined to any clique or group, but is shared by outstanding men of both parties and all beliefs; next, the movement necessarily works through the independent judgment of the American farmer, a hard-headed individualist who hasn't a soviet bone in his body.

Incidentally, co-operative marketing is the most important constructive economic program in the United States today, and it is the only existing machinery through which farmers can supplant the present haphazard system of merchandising their products with a scientific, orderly disposition of the fruits of their toil.

Political parties in the Legislature have convened in the spirit of brotherly investigation.

TEXAS TELLS KENTUCKY.

We have read, in our time, some millions of words on the tariff problem. "Protection" or free trade, a tariff for revenue only, a revision up, a revision down, the wool schedule, "Schedule K," the item relating to cane sugar, the one having to do with the duty on cutlery, including pocket knives—so many tariffic things that there have been days when we felt terrific. But absolutely the patiest anti-tariff argument that has come our way in a generation pops up out of a page of Collier's in the issue dated Jan. 10. Mr. Wakeman Brown of Houston, Tex., is addressing the editor:

I should like to tell Mr. Thad Singleton of Louisville, Ky., why he cannot purchase a good pocket knife for his boy. He mentions the knives he bought 30 years ago as being still good. He bought those knives during the administration of President Cleveland, and we were living under a low tariff, when American manufacturers were compelled to make good cutlery in order to compete with the foreign article. He probably knows that a high tariff enables the manufacturer to sell a cheaply made article at a high price, and probably thinks that "the foreigner pays the tariff." Anyway, his State voted to continue this robbery of the American people, and he doubtless voted that way, so he shouldn't kick.

Last week a St. Louisian bought an alarm clock in a local store for $1.69, marked down from $4.50 as a special bargain for one day. "The damn thing ran nearly three days," he told us, "then stopped. Stuck like a balky mule—couldn't budge it. I took it back to the store—after oversteeping—and told the lady clerk I used to buy clocks far better for 93 cents. 'Yes, they don't put good material into 'em nowadays,' she sighed. 'It's that way with nearly everything.'"

In the letter to Collier's, Texas tells Kentucky why it's that way.

OUR OWN SHOW-OFF.

(Poplar Bluff, Mo., Republican).

Not unlike a Khedive of Egypt or a Maharajah of Hindostan, Senator Brown left our little village last Sunday positively bedazzled with the panoply and pomp of political trappings. He sported a retinue of beautiful young ladies and led at the end of a string a poodle puppy that lent an air of aristocracy that knocked the natives cold. We suppose the band, led by that noble Roman, Frank Parria, met Dwight at the station at Jefferson City and played in awe some cadence "Hail The Conquering Hero Comes." If Herb Kittredge pulls any of this stuff when he leaves Butler County there will be about 5000 humble and lowly citizens vote for Eugene V. Debs from now on.

NEW MOVE AGAINST RAILROAD PAS-

SENGER RATES.

(Jackson, Mo., Cash Box.)

Hinkie Wilson, the obliging and alert clerk at the Missouri Pacific depot, who wields a rapid-firing tongue, was stunned Monday when a colored woman of Jackson appeared at the information window and sought instructions about shipping her son to Chillicothe by freight. She stated that she was desirous of getting him to his destination with the least possible expense and thought she would crate and label him and thereby be assured the safe delivery of her son. Mr. Wilson appealed to Express Agent Homer O'Neil, who also refused the consignment. Mr. Wilson suggested a cattle car and a change of destination to points south. The boy remains listed with the "on hand freight."

It seems that the vessel which brought over for the foreign companies in Washington the fine wines and liquors with which the Ambassadors and their guests regale themselves encountered terrific storms and was much delayed. This is ever alert for an application of scripture, to say: "What a pity those in charge of the ship did not think of Jonah and act accordingly!"

THE WASTE OF WAR.

From the Waterbury American.

A REPORT from the War Department shows that up to June 30, last, more than 900,000,000 have been sold for an amount in excess of $1,000,000,000. The average rate of recovery has been about 10 per cent of the cost. In individual cases, of course, the percentage has been much higher, but the a-average has been brought down by the disposal of less valuable items at much lower prices. Quite a number of land holdings which are of no use to the Government in time of peace, but which are very valuable in war, have been retained and leased to municipalities or individuals at market prices. The number of these in 1924 was 356 and the rentals amounted to $350,000.00, an increase of $10,000.00 over the previous year, but not much of a gain in a net loss of $2,000,000,000. War is the most expensive luxury in which the human race indulges. It brings no pleasure, no profit to anyone except a relatively small body of profiteers. It brings physical and mental suffering to almost everyone involved. Nobody wants it; yet nobody seems to know how to prevent it. In view of the extreme unpleasantness and costliness it would seem to offer a problem worthy of the closest attention and the most energetic effort.

Mr. Powell is a graduate of law from the University of Missouri, and is a member of the Acadia Fraternity. He is prosecuting attorney of Stoddard County. The wedding will take place some time next month. Several prenuptial parties have been planned for the couple. Miss Mohrstadt is the niece of Mrs. Charles E. Mohrstadt of St. Louis.

ZITA MAY BECOME WIFE OF HUNGARIAN TO RETURN HOME

Former Austrian Empress Has Not Yet Decided on Man, Wants to Educate Son to Be King.

Copyright, 1925, by the Press and Publisher Publishing Co., the New York World and the Post-Dispatch.

PARIS, Jan. 9.—Former Empress Zita of Austria, it is reported, has decided to marry a Hungarian, so she will be able to return to her country with her son, the former Crown Prince Otto, and educate him to be King.

She has not decided on her future husband, the reports continue, for the identity of the bridegroom is to play a smaller part in the match than his nationality. Count Hunyady, formerly the Hapsburg court marshal, and Count Julius Andrássy, the last of the Hapsburg Foreign Ministers, who declared for a separate peace in 1918, are most frequently mentioned. Count Chekonitch and Prince Esterhazy are other possibilities.

All four of these men have visited Zita in her exile. In her Spanish refuge she has always had two Hungarian and two Austrian noblemen as a guard of honor. The Hapsburg party in Hungary wait Otto named as King for the throne which Admiral Horthy holds as Regent. Otto is the heir to the throne of St. Stephen in the direct line of descent, but other royal Hungarian parties, as well as the Republicans, oppose him.

However, if Zita marries a Hungarian, it will be difficult to keep her from coming back with her children, and Otto's presence in the country might have a big influence on his fortunes.

MRS. MARGARET P. SAVELL GETS DIVORCE IN PARIS

Woman Who Lost $250,000 Necklace in Paris Hotel to Marry Basil Miles.

Copyright, 1925, by the Press and Publisher Publishing Co., the New York World and the Post-Dispatch.

PARIS, Jan. 9.—Mrs. Margaret Peabody Brown Savell, who recently lost a valuable pearl necklace from under her pillow in a Paris hotel, obtained a divorce yesterday from Lester Morton Savell. As soon as her mother arrives from New York she will marry Basil Miles, American secretary of the International Chamber of Commerce.

The Savells have been separated for several years and she has lived in Paris. He is a civil engineer. During the war he was in the French and then in the American army.

The disappearance of Mrs. Savell's necklace, which she missed one morning after she had been out late at a dance, caused a sensation, as it was at first reported to be worth several million francs. It never was found.

The Paris court also granted divorce to three other American women. In each case the plaintiff contended her husband refused to live with her.

The MIRROR of PUBLIC OPINION

This column is designed to reproduce without bias the latest comment by the leading publicists, newspapers and periodicals on the questions of the day.

THE WASTE OF WAR.

From the Waterbury American.
A REPORT from the War Department shows that up to June 30, last, materials whose original cost totaled more than $1,900,000,000 have been sold for an amount a little in excess of $1,000,000,000. The average rate of recovery has been about 54 per cent of the cost. In individual cases, of course, the percentage has been much higher, but the average has been brought down by the disposal of less valuable items at much lower prices. Quite a number of land holdings which are of no use to the Government in time of peace, but would be very valuable in war, have been retained and leased to municipalities or individuals at market prices. The number of these for 1924 was 365 and the rentals amounted to $960,693.08, an increase of $10,954.72 over the previous year, but not much of a dent in a net loss of $2,000,000,000. War is the most expensive luxury in the human race indulged in. It brings no pleasure or profit to anyone except a relatively small body of profiteers. It brings physical and mental suffering to almost everyone involved. Nobody wants it; yet nobody seems to know how to prevent it. In view of its extreme unpleasantness and costliness it would seem to offer a problem worthy of the closest attention and the most energetic effort.

RAILROAD EARNINGS.

From the Baltimore Evening Sun.
It must be pleasant news for the Progressives, who always are worrying for fear the railroads will earn too much money, to learn that the net return of all railroads this year falls short of 4.50 per cent on their investment. To the rest of the country the fact that the railroads have been doing this year a colossal business and still fall to earn over 4.50 per cent seems just a little bit suspicious. There may be some explanation of the situation in the statement that class one railroads paid more money in taxes than they did in dividends in 1924. It is quite evident that the high and growing cost of maintaining our army of jobholders is a fact not to be ignored when the earning power of the railroads is under consideration.

FARM CO-OPERATION.

From the St. Paul Pioneer-Press.
IF THE farmer's one customer (industrial Europe) keeps on "shopping around" with competitive nations for his food, American co-operative marketing will not find the world its oyster. It may help the farmer make a lower price to meet that competition, but it will not put a surplus in the bank for him. Somewhere between the tepid analytical attitude of the Department of Agriculture and the hot enthusiasm of the men of the mind of Gray Silver will the farmer find the form of co-operation that will meet his requirements.

WELLS DIES AT VLADIVOSTOK

He Recently Was Taken From Wrangell Island on Soviet Ship.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Charles Henry Wells of Pennsylvania, who recently was the central figure in a controversy over Wrangell Island, died on Thursday in the public hospital at Vladivostok, according to a cablegram received by the State Department today from American Consul Hanson at Harbin. Death was due to pneumonia.

Wells, with 13 Eskimos, was recently transported from Wrangell Island, where he had been sent by an American trading firm, to Vladivostok on the Soviet ice-breaker Red October.

A small sum of money was sent to Wells by the State Department after he landed destitute at Vladivostok. He received every possible medical attention during his illness, a dispatch from the consul at Harbin said. Negotiations now are in progress looking to the repatriation of the Eskimos at Vladivostok who are said to have been ordered deported by soviet authorities.

Reason for Going to Church.

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—If a man feels he cannot spend time in hearing a sermon, he can at least be in church long enough to praise God's goodness. Bishop Edwin Holt Hughes, Methodist, Chicago, formerly of Boston, told the Kiwanis Club. "The sermon is not the principal reason for going to church," said Bishop Hughes. "Nor is dull preaching any reason for

STAY OF JAIL TERM FOR BRIDEGROOM

Christy Panu Given Nine Days to Arrange Affairs Before Serving 30-Day Liquor Sentence.

A nine-day stay of sentence to permit a bridegroom to get his domestic affairs in order before beginning a 30-day jail term at Union, Mo., was granted today by Federal Judge Davis to Christy Panu, saloon keeper at 9135 Mar- ket street, who pleaded recent mar- riage along with his plea of guilty to illegal possession and sale of liquor.

It was not Panu's first offense. On May 29, 1922 he was fined $200 on the same charge. When ar- raigned today, Panu appealed for clemency and begged that his pun- ishment be another fine instead of a jail sentence, declaring he was married a short time ago and didn't want to start his married life in jail.

Judge Davis reminded him he should have thought about his ap- proaching marriage when he was peddling liquor last March, and set the penalty at 20 days in jail and a fine of $500, declaring leniency on such a plea would result in a stampede of liquor-law violators to the Marriage License Bureau.

After further argument, how- ever, Judge Davis agreed to defer sentence until Jan. 17.

JURY DISAGREES IN TRIAL OF EX-DISTRICT ATTORNEY

Wm. J. Corcoran of Boston Had Been Accused of Conspiracy to Extort $50,000.

BOSTON, Jan. 3.—After 48 hours deliberation the jury trying Wil- liam J. Corcoran, former District Attorney of Middlesex County, and three others on charges of conspir- acy to extort $50,000 from Victor A. Searles of Boston and Atlantic City, N. J., today reported a dis- agreement in respect to Corcoran and William J. Hartnett, another defendant.

The jury found verdicts of not guilty in the cases of William J. Kelly and Thomas F. Devine, co- defendants.

Originally 11 persons were in- dicted in the case, which grew out of a raid on a Boston apartment in 1920 in which Searles, an ar- tist and nephew of the late Ed- ward F. Searles, millionaire reclus- ward of Methuen, was found in company with two women, Eleanor Barnes and Blanche Paul, who admitted they were lures for a blackmail band.

The two women pleaded guilty and appeared as witnesses for the Commonwealth. District Attorney O'Brien nolle prossed the indict- ments against Theodore Barnes, Clarence W. Hoagland, Michael J. Lyons and J. Warren Kane.

The District Attorney announced that Searles would be placed on trial Jan. 15 on an indictment charging a statutory offense in connection with the indictments covered by the case and that Corcoran and Hartnett would be placed on trial again Jan. 19.

CHILD, 4, SHOTS WOMAN

Playfully Fired Gun Given Him as Reward for Taking Medicine.

JACKSON, Mich., Jan. 3.—After he had been persuaded to take a dose of medicine, the 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley, of Morton, Miss., yesterday shot and wounded Miss Martha Mitchell, with a small gun given to him by his father as a reward for taking the unpleasant dose.

When Miss Mitchell adminis- tered the medicine she handed the boy the gun, believed to have been unloaded. He turned it on the woman and pulled the trigger, the bullet striking her in the right leg and inflicting a severe wound.

THEFT OF TOWN BOOK LEAVES BRENTWOOD WITHOUT LAWS

Bolshevism Scare Ensues When Of- ficial Record Is Stolen From Clerk's Office.

Brentwood, the little suburb at Manchester and North and South roads, in St. Louis County, is in the throes of anarchy this week so far as laws are concerned, for it hasn't a law to its name. That is, not one that is valid. They were all stolen between 5 and 8 p. m. last Tuesday when somebody got away with the record book kept in Town Clerk Schier's office in the Town Hall. The volume contained not only the originals of all the town's 30 ordinances, but also the minutes of the Council for the last two and a half years. It is a desperate situation because ordinances don't count for much if there is no official record of them.

Since Tuesday Mayor Charles Meyer and the Town Council have been on the job steadily trying to repass some of the ordinances be- fore a state of bolshevism ensued and also trying to figure out how and why the book was stolen. So far they haven't a clue, although an advertisement in the Post-Dis- patch yesterday advised "the party seen leaving the Brentwood Town Hall on Tuesday evening with the record book of the council in his possession to return said book im- mediately to avoid prosecution."

KORETZ, CHICAGO SWINDLER, DIES IN ILLINOIS PRISON

Promoter Who Defrauded Relatives and Friends of Millions, Succumbs to Diabetes.

BROTHERS WITH HIM WHEN END CAME

He Was Arrested in Halifax
Last Month, Where He Lived Under Assumed Name.

By the Associated Press.
STATEVILLE, Ill., Jan. 9.—Leo Koretz, promoter of the Bayano oil bubble, who fleeced scores of friends and relatives out of millions of dollars, died in the State penitentiary last night.

The promoter, who for years conducted his financial ventures so quietly and effectively that relatives and friends begged him to take their money, declared when he went to prison a few weeks ago
that he did not expect to come out alive.

When Koretz was found last December in Halifax, Nova Scotia, he was suffering from diabetes and when he was returned to Chicago and pleaded guilty to charges of operating a confidence game, his condition had grown much worse.

Taken to Hospital.
His lawyers urged that a light sentence be pronounced for this reason and doctors who examined him said it was doubtful if he could stand prison life. When he first went to the State prison he was given light duties in the yard,
but a few days ago his condition was such that he was placed in the hospital.

Insulin treatments were used in an effort to save his life, but they were ineffective. He lapsed into unconsciousness early yesterday and prison officials, confident he would not survive the night, summoned his three brothers from Chicago. They were with him when he died.

His wife, whom he had requested be shielded as much as possible
when he was arrested, and whom,
for this reason, he had refused to see when he was brought back to Chicago, was on her way to the prison from Chicago when he died.
She had been notified early in the evening that he could live but a few hours.

Fled With $2,000,000.
Leo Koretz fled from Chicago in December, 1923, a few days before his Bayano Oil bubble burst. With him he took about $2,000,000 in money and securities, and behind him he left a wife and two children in straitened circumstances.
Only a day or two after he left a committee of business men who had gone to Mexico to investigate
rich oil lands in the Bayano River Valley reported there was no oil in the territory. They also reported that Koretz did not even own the worthless land. A search for the missing promoter was started.

A few days after Koretz fled he returned to relatives upwards of $300,000 of the money he took away with him, and also sent jewelry valued at several thousand dollars to his wife. Most of this was turned over to the Referee in Bankruptcy, who took over Koretz's affairs. When his tangled affairs were straightened out
it was found that those who held paper in the Bayano Bubble would lose more than $1,500,000.

Almost a year to a day from the time Koretz fled from Chicago, he was found in Halifax, Nova Scotia,
where he had purchased a large estate and was living as a retired business man under the name of Lou Keyte.

Despite the pleas of his attorneys that he could not survive a prison sentence, Koretz was given from one to 10 years on each of three charges of operating a confidence game, but the Court ruled
he might serve the sentence concurrently, making him eligible for parole at the end of 11 months. On Dec. 5, a year and two days from the time he fled from Chicago,
Koretz entered the prison.

BETTER THAN WHISKEY FOR COLDS AND FLU

The sensation of the drug trade is Aspirin, the two-minute cold and cough reliever, authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories; tested, approved and most enthusiastically endorsed by the highest authorities, and proclaimed by the people as ten times as quick and effective as whiskey, rock and rye, or any other cold and cough remedy they have ever tried.

All drug stores are supplied with the wonderful elixir, so all you have to do is to step into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk half a dollar for a bottle of Aspirin and tell him to serve you two teaspoon-fuls. With your watch in your hand, take the drink at one swallow and call for your money back in two minutes if you cannot feel the distressing symptoms of your cold fading away like a dream, within the time limit. Don't be bashful, for all druggists invite you and expect you to try it. Everybody's doing it.

Take the remainder of the bottle home to your wife and children, for Aspirin is by far the safest and most effective, the easiest to take and the most agreeable cold and cough remedy for children as well as adults. Quickest relief for catarrhal croup and children's choking up at night.

Painful rheumatic joints

This reduces the swelling—relieves the pain.

The oldest and most obstinate cases of rheumatic joints are relieved by Sloan's when all other remedies have failed.

No tireless rubbing. Just pat it on lightly. Instantly you feel a warm glow of comfort as fresh, new blood is sent tingling through the painful tissues.

The enriched blood supply not only relieves the pain, but drives out the infection that is causing the pain.

Get a bottle today and see for yourself how quickly it relieves the swelling, inflammation and pain in enlarged, creaky joints. All druggists—35 cents.

JURIES DISAGREE IN U. S. COURT BUT DEFENDANTS PLEAD GUILTY

Men Admit to Violation of Volstead Act Before Judge Davis After Trials.

Juries that tried two St. Louis County farmers for liquor law violations in the court of Federal Judge Davis yesterday disagreed, but afterwards both defendants pleaded guilty.

Charles Oth was the first one. He was charged with setting up and failing to register a still, under the old revenue law, and with maintaining a nuisance, under the Volstead act. The first mentioned violation may be punished by heavy fine and prison sentence. Oth pleaded guilty to the nuisance charge when the Government agreed to dismiss the other counts, and was fined $250.

Robert Brehm was the other, charged with possession of a dismantled still. The Government recommended leniency and Brehm was fined $250 on probation, meaning his fine was stayed.

SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA PLAYER DETAINED IN CHICAGO
William Kruse Must Satisfy Wife's Claim for Support Before Returning to Job Here.

His job, and with it money, await William Kruse, second bassoon player of the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra here. But Kruse is in Chicago.

He was taken there Wednesday to answer to a charge of failing to pay $18 a week to his wife and 2-year-old son, from whom he was separated in September, 1933. A Chicago Court had made that award. Kruse, who was out of a job before the opening of the symphony season here, had failed for several weeks to pay.

Musicians here offered to get him $500 to pay his wife if he could stay on in St. Louis. The wife was obstinate. The orchestra management by telephone failed to persuade her. Yesterday he appeared in Chicago Court. The case was continued till tomorrow to enable him to raise the money.

JUSTICE SUES WIFE, ALLEGING MISTREATMENT OF CHILDREN
Jasper C. Pittman of Eureka Also Charges Spouse Constantly Abuses Him.

Alleging that his wife treated her three children of a former marriage better than she did their own child and two of his by a former marriage, Justice of the Peace Jasper C. Pittman of Eureka filed suit in Circuit Court at Clayton yesterday to divorce his wife, Lena. Pittman, also alleged his wife "constantly abused me."

One of his sons, John, 29, has left home and another, George, 18, is considering leaving because of his wife's mistreatment of them, the petition recites. It also alleges that their son, Clarence, 8, does not receive the same treatment as do Mrs. Pittman's three children by a former marriage.

The petition states they were married in 1914 and separated Jan. 3 last.

CAUCUS ON SCHOOL BOARD SECRETARYSHIP POSTPONED
Four Members Unable to Attend—Will Be Held at 7:30 P.

M. Tuesday.

Last night on the matter of selecting a secretary-treasurer to succeed Charles P. Mason, who died Jan. 29, 1934, was postponed because of the inability of four members to attend.

It had been supposed that Hugh W. McNamee, acting secretary-treasurer, would be named at last night's meeting as several members who had not voted for him in the progress of the eleventh-hour deadlock had expressed the belief that he would be chosen.

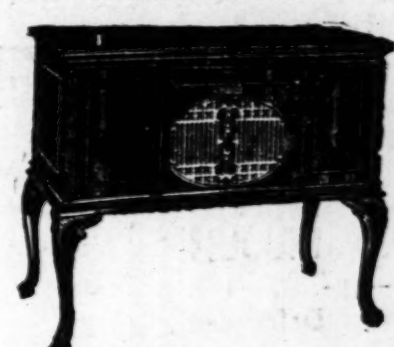

The caucus will now be held at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday preceding the regular January meeting of the board.

PLAN PAY INCREASE FOR COURT
Bill Being Drafted for Raise in Salary for Members of County Court.

A bill for submission to the State Legislature, raising the pay of each of the three members of the St. Louis County Court, or administrative body, $1200 a year, is being drafted by County Highway Engineer Jablonsky. The judges now receive $1200 a year each as members of the Board of Road Overseers and $5 for each day their body is in session. The court meets oftener now than formerly.

The County Court has the power of fixing the Highway Engineer's salary between $2000 and $5000, and the maximum has been paid. The engineer holds this position by appointment of the Court, being elected County Surveyor. It has been customary for one man to hold both positions. Other officials of the county receive considerably more pay than the county judges.

New Discovery Limbers Up Stiff, Sore, Swollen Joints

Soaks right into tendons and ligaments of your joints—right where the trouble starts—Then blessed comfort comes quickly.

Yes, it's true—the world progresses. All you have to do nowadays to limber up that stiff, rusty knee joint is to squeeze a half inch of miracle working substance from a tube.

Then rub it on the offending part for about a minute or until it soaks through the skin and disappears on its errand of mercy.

Then read the evening newspapers and go to bed.

The chances are that your misbehaving knee joint will lose its "crack" while you are dreaming about the high fence you used to leap when you were a youngster.

"And in the morning," says one who has tried the new discovery, "you'll feel so happy that you'll want to jump into your sported clothes and walk briskly down the street just to show the neighbors that you are not as old as they think you are."

Joint-Ease they call this wonder working substance for the reason that when ordinary remedies fail to limber up the stiff, inflamed rheumatic joint, or get rid of the swelling, Joint-Ease succeeds.

It's a good name for a good, clean, penetrating prescription that in just a few months has proven in a multitude of people that lame, swollen, distorted joints can speedily have the kinks taken out of them and work as smoothly as ever.

But Joint-Ease is for bothersome joints, whether in knee, ankle, arch, hip, shoulder, spine or finger, and for that purpose its sale at 50 cents a tube is reasonable.

Wolff-Williams Drug Co., Seventh and Washington has a big supply of it, and druggists everywhere report a big demand.

Always remember when Joint-Ease gets in, joint agony gets out—quick.

Baby's skin trouble healed
in one week

South Hills, Pittsburg, Pa., March 22.—"I certainly bless the day I started to use Resinol Soap and Ointment. I tried for four or five months to cure my baby of a skin and scalp trouble—tried nearly everything—but nothing did any good. Finally, a neighbor recommended Resinol and after using the soap and ointment on baby for three days, all the scales fell off and in one week's time the trouble was entirely cured. I will never be without them. My husband uses the Resinol Shaving Stick—he thinks it's the best he ever used." (Signed) Mrs. J. J. Baumgarten, Box 50—R. D. #9.

WILLIS PROPOSES NEW RESERVATION ON WORLD COURT

It Declares U. S. Not Bound by Advisory Opinions or Questions It Does Not Submit.

By CHARLES MICHELSON, A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New Nation World.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Senator Willis of Ohio has announced his intention of adding to the World Court measure a reservation by which the United States declines to be bound by any advisory opinions that may be given by the court upon questions which the United States has not voluntarily submitted for judgment. The reservation was introduced in the Senate yesterday.

As this supplement to the Hughes reservations that figured in the original proposal for American adherence to the permanent tribunal of international justice was embraced in President Coolidge's recent message, it is construed as the first step by the administration to action on the World Court plan which has been hung up for two years.

It is not probable that President Coolidge will attempt to force the measure through at the present session, but the effort is to put it on the calendar. The complexion of the next Senate is such as to give promise that the treaty will go through if the administration is in earnest about it.

Possibly the matter is being brought up at this time in order to get Senator Borah to put his own reservations in definite form. He was the first to make the point that the United States must not be committed to advisory opinions furnished to the League of Nations. Senator Borah thinks that the difficulties of adherence to the World Court have been increased by the protocol adopted at Geneva. For example, the Japanese have urged that an appeal should be possible if a country declares that a question that might lead to war was a domestic question. This, it is argued, makes it unthinkable that this country should be part of a court that might decide that the matter of Japanese immigration should be other than a domestic question, even though American judges did not participate in the decision.

This argument may appeal even to the Democrats, who are practically unanimous in advocating adherence to the court. Borah says he is eager to reach satisfactory agreement and will co-operate in getting the proposition out of committee. But Senator Borah is opposed to the consideration of anything that might interfere with the progress of domestic legislation—especially the appropriation bill—wherefore the utmost that is hoped for is the report of a resolution that can be handled promptly in the next Congress.

LONGWORTH SUGGESTS EARLY ASSIGNMENTS ON COMMITTEES

Discusses With President Plan to Expedite Legislation in Next Session of Congress.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—At a legislative conference with the President, Representative Longworth, majority leader of the House, discussed a plan of having the Committee on Committees
make the committee assignments
for the next Congress before Congress adjourns March.

This, he explained, would permit
the House to start early on tax and farm legislation. The Ways and Means Committee, he pointed out,
could begin next fall on tax reduction hearings, report a bill to Congress early, and permit reduction on 1925 incomes before the tax was due.

Longworth reported excellent progress with legislation in the House. President Coolidge expressed interest in two measures, asking they be pushed. He mentioned first the scheme to reorganize the executive departments devised at President Harding's request by Walter F. Brown. This bill is on the house calendar. Mr.
Coolidge also asked that the House
expedite a rent bill for the District of Columbia. House leaders have agreed these two measures will be brought up and pressed, providing they do not provoke a prolonged debate, in which case they must be sidetracked.

Mr. Coolidge also seemed interested in the fate of the McFadden banking bill, and proposed constitutional amendments to advance the date of the inauguration and to alter the method of amending the Constitution.

BOARD BILL OF WOMAN, SON AND DOG FIXED BY JURY

Claim of $275 Reduced to $210,
and Includes Payment of Milk Diet for Bull Pup.

A suit to collect the $275 board
bill of a man's 6-year-old son, his divorced wife and their milk-fed bull pup, was considered by a jury
in Circuit Judge Hall's court today, and resulted in a verdict of $210.50
for the plaintiff.

The case was that of Mrs. Adeline V. Dolvin, 4941 Columbia ave., against Samuel Schimmel, proprietor of a cigar stand in the Central National Bank Building.
She claimed that Schimmel's family stayed at her home from November, 1919, to August, 1920, and that she had been told Schimmel would pay. Her bill consisted of $240.81 for the board of the child,
$255 for the board of the wife,
Mrs. Adeline Gordon, and $87.50
for the dog, which lived on a milk diet. From the total, $663.31, she deducted $250, which she said had been paid.

Schimmel's defense was that he was not responsible for his divorced wife's bills. As for the child, his deed of divorce had given him custody of it, but he said he had never been able to get possession, and did not know where it was during the months listed in Mrs.
Dolvin's suit.

NAVAL FLYING CLUB MEETS

Completing its first year of existence, the Naval Reserve Flying Club held its annual meeting at the American Hotel Tuesday evening.
J. F. Fisher, ensign commanding the aviation unit of the naval reserves here, was re-elected president of the club. Membership of the club and unit virtually coincides at present.

The club has as its object promotion of interest in naval aviation. The reserve unit has weekly meetings for instruction in ground
subjects at the armory as the foot of Ferry street on Thursday evenings, and those who are successful in the work are sent to flight training at Great Lakes in the summer.

3 STORE MANAGERS ROBBED

Three Kroger store managers were held up and robbed between 6 and 7 o'clock last night, two as they were about to close their stores and one as he was walking home.

Ernest Rose of 2315 Eighteenth street was robbed of $115 cash by two men who found him alone in the store at 1800 Minnesota avenue. Louis Frankmeyer of 1814A
Benton avenue was robbed of $118
cash by two men in the store at 4200W Ashland avenue. Bernard Hoite, manager of the store at 421 S. South Street, was held up near his home, 5348 Starrock avenue, by a man with a revolver
who took $35 of the company's money.

Lights Go Out, Convicts Flee.
By the Associated Press.

MALESTER, Ok., Jan. 9.—
Three prisoners, serving sentences ranging from 10 to 25 years for robbery, escaped from the State Penitentiary here last night after a high-tension wire that supplies
current to wires on top the west prison wall and lights the wall had been grounded, throwing that part of the prison into darkness. A ladder leaning against the inside of the wall and a rope dangling outside, showed how the men had scaled the obstacle.

TEACHER ENGAGED TO MAN WHO SHOT HER, LETTERS SHOW

Love Missives From Wisconsin U. Instructor Found in Trunk of F. X. Bernard, Who Killed Self.

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 9.—The engagement of Miss Iora Palmer to Francis X. Bernard, who shot her and killed himself in a girl's dormitory at the University of Wisconsin Wednesday, was disclosed last night in letters seized by Hibbing, Minn., police from Bernard's room there.

"There is no possibility of my allowing another man to make love to me as long as I am engaged to you," one of the letters from Miss Palmer to Bernard said. The police found many letters Bernard had written her, but had not mailed. A mutual interest in things French, and in the teaching of that language led from acquaintance to engagement after Miss Palmer was graduated from Wisconsin and went to Hibbing as a romance language teacher in the High School, the letters indicated. Bernard was a mining chemist employed in Hibbing.

Later, Miss Palmer returned to Wisconsin as an instructor in romance languages, and Bernard obtained her former post in the Hibbing High School. Recently he sought a place on the University of Wisconsin staff, but that was denied because he had no degree. Until Wednesday he had been seen frequently at the dormitory at which Miss Palmer was chaperon. Miss Palmer early today had improved sufficiently to warrant belief she would recover, despite wounds from three bullets, one of which penetrated her stomach. Bernard's body was sent to his parents at Eveleth, Minn., last night.

OBTAINS ANNULMENT OF MARRIAGE TO M. V. BROOKS

Former Mrs. A. D. Niederluecke Also Permitted to Reassume Her Maiden Name of Thies.

Mrs. Marguerite Brooks of Chicago, who formerly was the wife of August D. Niederluecke, court stenographer for Circuit Judge Killoren, obtained a decree annulling her second marriage, to Morrell V. Brooks, who has an office in the Planters Building, from Judge Hartman of the Court of Domestic Relations yesterday.

She testified that she was married to Brooks on Aug. 14 last, when still legally the wife of Niederluecke, being under the mistaken impression that Niederluecke had obtained a divorce decree on Aug. 1. She did not learn until Sept. 11, she said, that the divorce had not been granted till Aug. 21, whereupon Brooks left her, claiming their marriage was void.

Her maiden name, Thies, was restored by the annulment decree. Attention had not been drawn to the annulment suit until it was set for hearing yesterday. On Sept. 11 Niederluecke filed suit against Brooks for $20,000 damages, alleging alienation of his former wife's affections.

"NO HUSBANDS ALLOWED"

Apartment House for Single Women Built in New York.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Dogs, cats, birds and talking machines—but no husbands—will be permitted in "the first apartment house ever built for women only," now nearing completion in West Thirtieth street. This is the announcement of Miss Vera Fogel, who still is superintendent of Irvin Hall, as the apartment building will be known. She now is in charge of the clubhouse of the New York branch of the National League of Girls' Clubs. One of her principal duties will be to interview applicants and ascertain that they are not married and have no intention of marrying "within the immediate future."

According to Miss Virginia Potter, first vice president of Irvin Hall, the building is being erected to cater chiefly "to the needs of stenographers, saleswomen, teachers and other workers who are living uncomfortably in rooming and boarding houses, and to provide them with a home, which every woman wants."

DAUGHERTY AT WHITE HOUSE

Attends Reception on Invitation of President Coolidge.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Harry M. Daugherty was a guest at the White House last night for the first time since he left the Cabinet last March. At the invitation of President Coolidge, the former Attorney-General was one of about 2000 persons who attended the first of four state receptions given by the President and Mrs. Coolidge in honor of the diplomatic corps. Daugherty had been in Philadelphia on a business trip before coming to Washington. "Hard work seems to keep the President fit," he was quoted as saying upon leaving the executive mansion. "That's a good recipe for us all."

"My wife and four children were dependent on me for their living. My stomach and liver trouble of five years had made me dependent, as no medicine seemed to help me, and I was gradually wasting away. Auto Mechanic Found Slain With Gag in Mouth Believed to Be Victim of Gang.

By the Associated Press.
MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 9.—Arrests were expected today as police and county authorities continued investigations begun after the discovery of the body of Calvin A. Palmer, automobile mechanic, in a shack several miles south of Miami.

The body, with a gag stuffed in the mouth, bore indications of strangulation. In addition to several skull fractures. A stained iron bar was found beside the dead man.

Possible connection between the death of Palmer and those of Joseph C. Boylan, Brooklyn salesman, and Warren G. Snowden of Memphis, Tenn., was being sought by authorities, as they endeavored to link the deaths with troubles among bootlegging gangs in Miami and the vicinity.

Boylan's body, with a severed jugular vein, was cast up on the beach by the Atlantic. Dec. 28.

Snowden's body, with no evidence of water on the lungs, was found on Miami beach Jan. 1.

Palmer's wife told authorities he had been connected with a bootlegging gang and had announced to her his intention of giving up such work.

As the hearing closed, trappers, their wives and even children crowded the little courtroom to the door. Many had traveled miles by dog sled over the frozen snows.

Dr. L. P. The raids climaxed a 60-day investigation by the Government in which nearly $6000 was spent in procuring evidence. Articles used in the making of illicit liquor were purchased by the Federal men upon which to base their warrants for the raids. One still, the largest ever found in this district, cost them $1000; while the prices of others ranged from $25 to $500.

Manager Middleton is planning some radical changes in the type of entertainment to be offered at The New Gayety Theater, beginning with the Matinee, Sunday, January 11th, first and foremost of which will be an illuminated runway, extending back to the fifteenth row, upon which fashion revues and bathing girls' parades will be held at every performance.

Special nights will be introduced, the first of which will be a genuine surprise as well as a sensation, called "Which One Would You Marry?" This will take place Tuesday evening, January 13th. Thursday evening will be the Atlantic City Beauty Bathing Girl Parade. The audience will select the prettiest girl, who will receive a handsome prize, as will also those running second and third. The features that are the talk of the Music Halls of the Great White Way will be introduced weekly at The New Gayety.

A series of Art Studies De Luxe will be shown Saturday night, January 17th. Girls who desire to enter the Bathing Girls' Contest should register at once at the manager's office. Talented amateur dancers are also requested to call at once, as it is his intention to organize a chorus of local girls. Those who can qualify as exceptional dancers will be permanently employed.

It must be distinctly understood that these contests are not open to public characters. In foreign countries girls of excellent families and many prominent Society Girls are found in the permanent choruses of The Music Halls of Europe, as it furnishes them a comfortable living. All of these innovations will be carried on in a strictly high-class manner and will not invite the undesirable patronage drawn by the vulgarity found at the lower-class theater.

MUNN, NOVICE IN WRESTLING WORLD, WINS TITLE FROM ED LEWIS

Champion Defeated After Being Thrown Over Ropes; Given Second Fall on Foul

Former Nebraska Football Star Takes First Fall in 21 Minutes After Picking Up Lewis and Hurling Him to Floor Several Times—Lewis and His Manager to Protest Decision.

By the Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 9.—(Strangler) Lewis, who last night lost his crown as heavyweight wrestling champion to Wayne (Big) Munn, former football player, rested today in a local hospital. Attendants there said the fallen champion had suffered bruises only in his match last night and soon would be discharged.

Later, Lewis' physicians announced that the wrestler had suffered a strain of the shoulder joint and said that it had not yet been determined how serious the injury was.

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 9.—An erstwhile University football player, who tried boxing, but couldn't stand up against the punches and whose knowledge of the technique of grappling is that of a novice, is the new wearer of the world's heavyweight wrestling belt.

He is Wayne (Big) Munn, a man, who last night threw off the headlocks of the veteran, Ed (Strangler) Lewis, and took away his title.

Lewis today is in a local hospital, suffering probable injuries to his back, a new experience for the "Strangler" who, in his long mat career, has seriously hurt many opponents with his famous headlock.

The championship clash, witnessed by 15,000 howling fans, all of whom seemed to be partisans of the challenger, developed the most tumultuous scene in the turbulent history of wrestling here, and brought about a tangle in the interpretation of mat rules.

Thrown Out of Ring. The climax came after two minutes of wrestling for the second fall, when Munn, twisting free from the headlock, lifted Lewis high in the air with a body and crotch hold, apparently the only weapon at his command, and, walking to the ropes, hurled the "Strangler" outside onto the uncovered floor of the platform.

Lewis' 225 pounds hit the boards with a terrific thud and the titleholder rolled down to the floor. Chaos ensued. "Billy" Sandow, Lewis' calculating manager of Louisville, lost his accustomed coolness and sprang into the ring, crying "Foul!"

The crowd stormed at the platform, but a large detail of police held back the fans. Munn started through the ropes.

Lewis Offers Little Opposition After Returning for Third Fall. The allotted 15 minutes passed while physicians worked on Lewis and some semblance of order was restored. In another five minutes Lewis came to the ring, bandaged, and was assisted through the ropes. The delay by the titleholder in coming out was disregarded by Bates.

The match was over in a few seconds after the two men clinched, Lewis offering little opposition. Munn clamped on another body and crotch hold and hurled his man to the mat. Lewis lay prone and a new champion had been crowned. It took just 50 seconds for the deciding fall.

Lewis Treated Rough. Lewis was lifted high over the head of the young giant three times during the match and dashed to the floor. Munn gained the first fall in that manner in 21 minutes with the body and crotch hold. Lewis lay stunned and it was five minutes before he could be assisted to his feet.

Munn asserted after the match he did not throw Lewis outside the ring. "I didn't throw him over," he said. "I held him high and he briggied out of my clutch."

Sandow, declaring he would "contest" the decision, contended Referee Bates erred in not awarding the match to Lewis on the foul. Referee Bates, however, declared Lewis lost any right to a protest by coming back for the third fall. He said both Lewis and Sandow agreed after the fourth was called to return for the deciding fall.

Sandow, on the other hand, said there was nothing to do but go on even though Lewis was in no condition, since, he asserted, Bates warned Lewis to appear or forfeit the match.

Sport authorities pointed out there was none to whom Lewis could "protest" the decision which giving him the championship, there being no governing body in wrestling.

Munn Failed as Boxer. The new champion, a towering figure of 6 feet, 6 inches, who weighs 260 pounds, played in the line of the University of Nebraska football team and after leaving school essayed a boxing career. He met several fighters of no great ability and after being stretched out for the count a few times put away the opposition.

Munn's wrestling experience was limited. True, he had wrestled three years as a college star, but was still green when he graduated. As a professional he had engaged in about 30 matches and but three of these with wrestlers of any name at all—Joe Monde, Wallis Dugid and Ed Lewis.

"They all were easy, with nothing in their famous holds to bother a person," Munn observes. "I didn't know much about wrestling, just used my head and what strength I had."

Thus came a new mat champion, who previously had been student star tackle on the Nebraska team, soldier, automobile salesman, boxer and wrestler.

The clash with Lewis was Munn's first big match.

Dr. Terry E. Lilly, one of the physicians attending Lewis early today, said that it was impossible at that time to determine exactly what injuries the former champion might have suffered.

Radiograms were taken of his back, but these prints were not sufficiently dry to determine the trouble, Dr. Lilly said. There were several foreign markings on the wet prints, the physician said, and these might be due to a possible fracture of the pelvic bone, or to the lower part of the spine.

Lewis ruled over the heavyweight wrestlers three years. He won the belt from Stanislaus Zbyszko.

fighting in the fourth. Both men are welterweights.

PHILS AND WHITE SOX CLAIM SAME PLAYER. By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—Baseball Commissioner Landis has been asked by the Chicago White Sox to decide whether Pitcher O'Neill of the Beaumont, Tex. club belongs to the Sox or to the Philadelphia Nationals.

O'Neill is a big right-hander, and was sought by four major league clubs.

Representatives to Seek Closer Co-operation with Officials—Fund for Injured to Be Raised.

Thirty-four players of the St. Louis Soccer League met last night at the Northwestern Hall and laid the foundation for an organization designed to gain closer co-operation with the officials of the league and to create a protective association to insure players against injuries on the playing field.

A committee composed of Frank Vaughn, chairman, Jimmy Dunn of the Ben Millers, John Redden of the Ratican team, Jimmy Burke of the Scullins and Irv Wimer of the Vespers, was named by the players to represent them in a meeting with league officials next Monday evening at which time a request will be made for a full explanation of the methods used in meeting expenses. The committee was also instructed to work out a plan whereby one or more representatives of the players will be stationed at the gates in the future to check the receipts and passes.

The committee was authorized to work out a plan whereby a fund might be raised through the playing of a benefit double-header each season and possibly augmented by weekly dues from which injured players might be recompensed when incapacitated.

JOHNNY LAYTON WINS TWO BILLIARD GAMES; COPULOS TAKES LEAD

Special to the Post-Dispatch. PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 9.—Johnny Layton of St. Louis showed a return to his real form here yesterday in defeating Otto Heisel of this city in two National Three-Cushion Billiard League matches.

The scores were 50 to 47 in 15 innings and 50 to 42 in 60 innings. Layton played steadily in the afternoon match, while in the evening game he was at times brilliant. His best run was eight, scored in the night game.

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 9.—Extreme caution and constant safety play served to slow up a pair of Three-Cushion League games here yesterday between former Champion Tiff Denton of Kansas City and Gus Copulos. Copulos won both matches, the first requiring 62 innings and the second 88 innings. Copulos had a high run of 10.

The double victory put Copulos back in the lead.

Graham Wilson's Setter Third in Field Trial Derby

Oxford's Heather Third to Undaunted Rap, 15-Months-Old All-America Champion.

By A. F. Hochwalt.

GRAND JUNCTION, Tenn., Jan. 9.—The pointer, Undaunted Rap, owned by Doyle Henderson, of Alamo, Tenn., handled by George Gray, won the derby championship of the all-American field trials, yesterday.

The runner-up was the setter dog Pastime King, owned by the Pastime kennels of Courtland, Miss. There were 17 starters in the stake, composed of dogs under two years of age.

The victory carries with it the title of all-American derby champion and a purse of commensurate value.

The running proved to be interesting for birds were plentiful, the average being about five beives to the brace.

Up to the time Undaunted Rap ran his race it appeared that Pastime King would become the winner; but Rap had scarcely been turned loose when he began finding birds and he continued to find them throughout the heat, scoring five distinctive "finds" and running a race, that for intelligence and range, was the equal of any of his best heats on the prairie.

Winner From Canada. Undaunted Rap is the dog which came out on the prairies of Saskatchewan in the all-American trials last September where he easily won. His performance there was on prairie chickens, but he demonstrated here that he is just as good a quail as he is a chicken dog.

The judges did not find it necessary to run a second series, for the work of the winner and the runner-up stood out well above the field, although one of the interesting races was that of the setter, Oxford's Heather, owned by S. G. Wilson Jr. of St. Louis. Heather was an easy third and had she been more stanch on her game she might have done better than that.

She proved, however, that she can find birds and, with a little more training, should be the equal of either of the two dogs placed over her.

Pastime King is a new dog on the field trial circuit. He is only 15 months old, but a remarkable dog for his age.

MORE MONEY NEEDED TO EXTEND SCOPE OF MUNICIPAL ATHLETICS

At a dinner given last night at the American Annex the Central Council of the Municipal Athletic Association at which all municipal sports leagues were represented, it was pointed out by officials that unless greater financial assistance was given by the city, the career of municipal athletics could not continue to grow.

President Mooney of the council urged the heads of all branches of sport to assist the council in its endeavor to increase the scope of municipal athletics. It was announced that Director William F. Yorgler has advised Park Commissioner Pape that if it should become necessary to make a choice, the association would prefer to improve the park equipment generally rather than devote its allotted funds to the building of a central stadium at this time.

The director has requested Billy Bascom, well-known tennis and handball player, to form a handball league. Bascom will call an open meeting some time next week, probably at Sherman Park Community Center.

The annual dinner at which time trophies won in the various branches of sport, will be held on Jan. 23 at the Grand Avenue Community Center.

Lessons Learned in Training

Make Better Boys, Says Bramell

Greatest Virtue of Amateur Boxing Is Fact That in Training Boys Learn to Observe Rules of Clean Living, Conditioner of Athletes Writes.

This is the ninth of a series of articles written by leaders in amateur boxing in this district in which an endeavor is made to better acquaint boxers and spectators with the rules of the game and to help the boxers to improve their style.

By Tommy Bramell, Coach of Boxers and Trainer of the St. Louis Browns.

Fame and fortune in the professional end of the game should not be the only motive which spurs a boy on in his career as an amateur.

Training in amateur boxing, under proper supervision, is invaluable in building up a boy's body, and if he will follow the advice of veteran trainers he cannot help profiting morally, also.

Following are some of the training rules I wish to recommend to youthful amateurs:

Keep regular hours. Get plenty of sleep.

Train three times a week, at least.

Keep your teeth clean and in good shape.

Give strict attention to diet. Don't make a practice of training "down to weight."

Weigh frequently and build up, don't tear down.

Don't train intensively without previous preparation.

Remember that condition is 75 per cent of the battle.

As to getting sufficient sleep, or rest, it is quite true that earnest training will accomplish nothing if the boy is physically tired out. He will fatigue quickly in the ring if his road work and gymnasium work are not accompanied by natural rest.

If a boy trains regularly three times a week he will never find his task hard and he will always find his wind strong. It is wise, I believe, to start intensive training for a bout about eight days before the match. If the boy has been faithful in his preliminary, three-times-a-week training, he will have to give only 25 or 30 minutes a day to his boxing or road work in the last eight days.

As to the teeth: Some boys come into the gymnasium with their teeth in frightful condition. It has been proved that bad teeth will cause a bad stomach and no boy can hope to go far in athletics with a bad stomach. Boys get acquainted with toothbrush. Keep your body clean.

A boy in fine condition, strong at his weight, can stand a lot of

Weissmuller Cuts 100-Meter Record

World Champion Sets New Mark of 58.4-5 Seconds.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—Three tank records were set last night in the first of a series of meets held by the Illinois A. C.

Johnny Weissmuller, holder of numerous world marks, swam the 50-yard free style event in 23.4-5 seconds against his former record of 23.3-5 and made the 100-meter free style in 58.4-5 compared to his former mark of 60.4-5. Conrad Nilsa clipped 1:04.3-5 from the record of 1:13.59.2-5 in the 880-yard back stroke made by Robert Hoesy at Coney Island in May, 1924.

punching. Ordinary punches don't hurt him.

The lessons a boy learns in amateur boxing should make him a better youth and a better man.

CHARLES B. STARK'S

WILL IS FILED HERE

Most of Estate in Trust for Margaret Stark, "Long Cherished as Sister."

The will of Charles B. Stark, former St. Louis attorney, who died at Pasadena, Cal., two weeks ago, was filed in Probate Court today by the Mississippi Valley Trust Co. His estate is estimated at $100,000.

After minor bequests, including one of $2000 for the upkeep of a family cemetery lot at Springfield, Tenn., and 33 shares of First National Bank stock in Chicago, the bulk of the estate is left in trust for the benefit of Margaret Stark, whom the will states, "I have long cherished as a sister and whom I would have adopted as such had there been a law providing for such an action." She is to receive the income and, in case it should fall below $2400 a year, enough of the principal to make up the amount.

Miss Stark is given the right to dispose of the fund as she sees fit at her death. In event no such disposition is made, the fund will remain in trust, the income to be used to assist worthy young men and women in their efforts to educate themselves. This assistance, the will states, is to be rendered through loans at a low rate of interest, to be repaid after the student has finished school or college.

Miss Stark is a teacher at the Bryan Hill Public School and lives at 3208 A. Barrett street. She said today that she and Charles Stark were "double cousins." Their mothers were sisters and their fathers brothers, she said, and that while the two families lived together at one time many persons naturally believed that she and Stark were brother and sister. Miss Stark said her cousin left St. Louis for California a year ago, and had never advised her of the disposition he expected to make of his property.

Miss Charlotte I. Brown, to whom Stark left 33 shares of First National Bank stock, is also a teacher in the public schools, being one of the instructors at the Cote Blanche school. She would not discuss the bequest.

TO ASK STATE TO REIMBURSE

DEPOSITORS IN ROSS CASE

Special Committee to Urge Baker to Support Bill in Legislature.

An effort to have the State reimburse depositors of the Night and Day Bank for the defalcations of Donald W. Ross, who looted the wreckage of the bank while in charge as a Deputy State Finance Commissioner, was taken up today by the special committee of the depositors' organization.

Governor-elect Baker will be asked to support a bill to be introduced in the Legislature to appropriate for the depositors $187,000, the alleged total taken by Ross, who is under two appeals pending in the state court. Baker will be asked also to suggest a legislator to introduce the bill.

The committee believes that this amount would be the equivalent of 7 per cent of deposits. In liquidation 57 per cent has been received already, and inquiry is to be made by the committee as to how soon another "dividend" may be expected. The 67 per cent and an additional payment would mean a fairly good settlement, the committee feels.

RING, STOLEN DURING WALES' VISIT, RETURNED TO COSDEN

$25,000 Trinket Part of $150,000 Gem Theft From Oil Man's

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—A $25,000 pink pearl ring, part of the $150,000 gem loot of burglars from the Sands Point home of Joshua S. Cosden, oil man, on Sept. 8, during the visit of the Prince of Wales, is again in its owner's possession, police announced today.

Most of the stolen jewelry belonged to Mrs. Cosden and Lady Mounbatten and Mrs. Richard Norton, close friends of the royal home while the Prince was in Long Island. Coincidentally with the information that the pearl ring had been returned, it was announced that Cosden had already received one insurance payment of $65,000 for a policy held on the stolen gems.

Police announced that the pearl ring had been bought in good faith by a New York broker, who consulted a jeweler. The latter identified the pearl and eventually it was returned to Cosden.

SUES TO RETAIN AUTO AGENCY

Newell Motor Car Co. Brings Action Against Paige-Detroit Firm.

Suit to enjoin the Paige-Detroit Motor Car Co., Detroit, from terminating its agency or selling cars to other dealers in this territory was filed by the Newell Motor Car Co., dealers at 2211 Locust boulevard, in Federal Court here today. It is alleged that the Newell company agreed to take 400 Paige and Jewett cars from the manufacturer, the defendant, for about $400,000 for the 1925 season, but was notified by telephone on Dec. 31 that its agency was terminated.

The Newell company had a contract as exclusive agent for the Paige company cars in the district.

CLAIM AGAINST ESTATE

OF LON V. STEPHENS HEARD

Probate Judge Takes Plea of Two Lawyers for $2000 Attorney Fee Under Adversement.

A claim of $2000 for attorney fees made by Congressman Sam R. Major of Fayette, Mo., and W. V. Draffen of Booneville, Mo., against the estate of the late Gov. Lon V. Stephens, was taken under advisement by Probate Judge Holtcamp after testimony was heard in the case yesterday.

The claim is based on services rendered by Stephens' brother, Alexander, when he was tried in Federal Court at Jefferson City on a charge of violating the national banking laws in connection with the failure of the Central National Bank at Booneville, of which Alexander Stephens was cashier. He was permitted to plead guilty to one count and receive a short jail sentence, from which he was pardoned by the late President Wilson.

Depositions of two former United States Assistant District Attorneys who prosecuted the case were introduced in which it was stated that Stephens' brother was the attorney in the case. The claim was resisted by Charles M. Hay, attorney for Mrs. Margaret Stephens, widow, on the ground that no agreement whereby the attorneys were to be paid by former Gov. Stephens was made.

CITY JAIL GUARD CHARGED

WITH THEFT OF AUTOMOBILE

James R. Patton Lands on Wrong Side of Bars because of Stolen Machine.

James R. Patton of 2644 McNair avenue, a city jail guard, landed on the wrong side of the bars today on account of a stolen automobile, and a warrant was issued charging him with theft of an automobile and receiving stolen property.

The stolen car, belonging to the South Side Buick Automobile Co., disappeared from 2816 Macklind avenue on Nov. 4 last. It was found by detectives yesterday at the home of Albert Perkins, 1818 Morgan street. Perkins said Patton had sent for him Wednesday to get the car and repair it. Patton was arrested at 4:30 a. m. today. He told the police that William A. Schollmeyer, a prisoner at the jail, called him on Nov. 15 and arranged a meeting outside that night, at which, he said, Schollmeyer gave him the machine to take care of.

However, records show that Schollmeyer had been in jail continuously since Nov. 12, awaiting trial. He has been convicted of burglary and arrested repeatedly in connection with other cases.

LORD SALISBURY GOING TO OPIUM CONFERENCE

Chamberlain Makes Announcement and Asks That Next Session Be Delayed.

By the Associated Press.

GENEVA, Jan. 8.—What is generally believed to be an important development in the war on opium has come in a formal notification by the British Government to the League of Nations that the Marquis of Salisbury had been appointed chief British representative to the international opium conference, now in recess. The Marquis is a brother of Lord Cecil.

The conference was to have been resumed Jan. 12, but in the notification of Lord Salisbury's appointment Great Britain asked the league and the league's governments to arrange for an adjournment of the resumption for one week on account of the accident met with by the Marquis yesterday in the hunting field.

Austen Chamberlain, British Foreign Secretary, telegraphed Sir Eric Drummond, secretary-general of the league, that if by any chance Lord Salisbury had not recovered by Jan. 13 the British Government would delegate a member of the Cabinet to substitute for him.

New Attitude by Britons. These announcements coincided with the return of Representative Stephen G. Porter, head of the American delegation, from his trip to North Africa and are generally interpreted as implying a new orientation of the British attitude toward the problem of opium and narcotic drugs, for the settlement of which so small a measure of success has thus far been achieved.

It has been learned that the developments of the recent conference sessions caused several discussions in the British Cabinet during which, it is said, the effect of the proceedings upon public opinion in the United States was given special attention.

It is believed Great Britain's decision to send Lord Salisbury to the conference will be followed by the new appointment of new delegates of high rank by France and Holland.

May Be Chief Delegate. In his telegram to the league, Secretary Chamberlain said Great Britain greatly regretted that, owing to the accident to Lord Salisbury, he must ask for a postponement. He added, however, there was every hope that the Marquis would be allowed to travel after a week's rest.

"I regret and much deplore the inconvenience that may be caused the other Governments concerned," Chamberlain's message said, "but no other course is open to us. It is impossible at such short notice to arrange for a substitute of Cabinet rank for Lord Salisbury by Jan. 12, and I am most anxious to leave open the possibility of retaining Lord Salisbury as the principal British delegate as he is thoroughly familiar with our views in all the aspects of the important questions at issue. I am informing the United States, France and the Netherlands."

It is stated that the postponement asked for by the British undoubtedly will be accorded.

RETIRED MILLIONAIRE FACES CONFIDENCE GAME CHARGES

Investments in Defunct Bus Line Involved in Case Against Former Chicago Politician.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—Charges of operating a confidence game have been made in warrants issued for Thomas Carey, retired millionaire, once prominent in Democratic politics and one time candidate for Mayor, now at his winter home in Los Angeles.

Investments of stockholders including the Rev. Father M. O. Sullivan, a Catholic priest, totaling $100,000 in a defunct motor bus line, were said to be involved.

In obtaining the warrants, prosecutors charged that a letter over the facsimile of Carey's signature went out to stockholders, including Father Sullivan, eight days after the State Supreme Court had ruled that the bus line between Argo and Joliet, Ill., must not operate in competition with present transportation lines. The priest's loss was $6000, State's attorneys said.

Attorneys for Carey said he would return immediately and face the charges.

Never has one make of clothing seen such popularity as Bond's—never before has the selling of dependable clothes by the maker direct to the wearer reached such unqualified perfection. There is one big factor that is really responsible for Bond's wonderful success—and that is the ability to give you what you want, when you want it, at a price less than you can buy it for elsewhere—yes, and made better, too!

—and right now when everybody is giving you the "sale song" and there is just about so much business to be had—the way we've figured it, the store that gives you the most of the best for the least will capture the lion's share of that business. So we come out now with a feature event that will, we believe, outvalue any sale in America.

THIRTY-THIRD INSTALLMENT

In publicity methods Admah lifted the P. & T. from the Benjamin Harrison period into the Rooseveltian. A wild-eyed, shock-haired young man named Bentley had once advertised the Candy Holtz system, and on him was conferred the title of General Publicity Director, with instructions to introduce confectionery methods into the Holtz implement business. Mr. Canfield, who hated the shadow of Admah Holtz, got to calling the man General Bentley; but Bentley was a good fellow. Under his guidance the dull catalogues became picture books. He seduced the farmer with charming art captions. Next Muller talked the hay on one of the Goliath hay-rakes. Little Bentley offered luncheon to a handsome rustic on a Vesuvius motor harrow.

Mr. Canfield, a methodical, cheese-paring gentleman of the old style, sickened at the sight of good money going after bad. But it was only upon rare anniversaries when the toddy had gone to his head that he opened his rancid heart. Then in a corner he would mention Salesmanship as a thing of the past; "What we need now, huh, is a band of jugglers. It comes high, sub, but the farmer must have his Roman holiday." He hated farmers.

Subsequent prosperity should have changed Mr. Canfield's mind, but he died hard. He had grown up in the P. & T. and worshiped the Peake money under its cornerstone. In terms of plain cash Admah's modernistic theories of advertising and salesmanship involved expenditures which were more than offset by economies in other directions. Although automatic hammer in the shops were still beating steel with the rage of Vulcan, the force had been cut down to a skeleton; several more or less honorary officers had also been dispensed with. Could Admah have included Mr. Canfield in his program of retrenchment he would have done so without the slightest regret. But Mr. Canfield was a substantial stockholder and in his limited way a very useful officer.

Luck turned in the winter of 1921. How much modern views on salesmanship and advertising had to do with the case it is hard to say. Agriculture was coming to life again, taking renewed interest in neglected soil. Business revived almost overnight; tons and tons of implements which had been stored away in the great stockrooms began pouring into box-cars in their progress toward the lands of wheat and corn and sugar cane. P. & T. stocks, which had been sinking at 9, jumped to 18.

CHAPTER 53.

During these laborious months Admah's active outer mind could have given little thought to Flora Lee Peake or her less considered sister. His days were long and hard, and if there was sufficient energy left for the evening he seldom lacked amusement. Col. Atterbury had seen to it that his protégé made an appearance socially. Admah was elected to the Pickwick Club—an undreamed-of attainment. He never got quite used to the place; his shoes seemed to squeak on the deep, formal carpets. But he dined there frequently and played pool sometimes with Wen Peabody, who had once bowled at Palfers and, like Admah, had risen to power. Mrs. Atterbury had asked him to several dinner parties. Every Tuesday night he took Miss Henriette de Long to the theater and might have weakened into marrying her had she not announced her engagement to a hotel man from the east.

So a winter of exciting days and dull nights passed into the brightness of an April dividend when the Holtz success became established in the town which had nursed him roughly like a wolf mother. He spent many Saturday nights with Uncle Lefe and Aunt Brownie. When the Captain got his first check from the P. & T. investment he mailed it to his son in Chicago. Bert, it would appear, had failed in the button business. Old Lefe sent away the money with a roar of exultation; it was as if he had won a bet.

"That's what you git for marryin'," he explained, maiming Brownie with one of his frequent embraces. "Love, courtship, marriage; and then you begin to increase and multiply. Sometimes it's twins. You're blessed with children who love you up to the age of reason. When they begin to think for themselves, of course it's hard for both parties."

"Don't mind him, Admah," cautioned Aunt Brownie.

"Well, why don't he git married and end it all?" asked Uncle Lefe. That night Admah went home wondering.

When the spring racing season opened at Bradbury Downs the Atterburys gave a Derby day breakfast in their fine old house whose French windows opened on low verandahs, overlooking acres of wooded lawn. The place was of the generous antebellum type, built under the influence of Louis Philippe. Here the Atterburys had given Derby day breakfasts for 50 years.

Admah Holtz was specially favored by being asked. Attired in a new plaid suit, which Monty Fernback's salesman had coaxed him into, Admah came at noon to the big rambling house and found the Atterburys entertaining on the lavishly scaled by which, in days of old, they had rivaled even the Peakes. A great number of little tables had been brought in; a huge sideboard, ornate with Delft's standing hams, enlivened dishes, joints on silver platter, gleaming coffee urns, gave the effect of an old South as we have been taught to think of it. A long serving table, adorned with two gigantic bowls and innumerable glasses, stood conspicuously. It was attended by a little negro whose white gloves and brass-buttoned livery gave him the look of a performing chimpanzee.

Jimmy Wilder managed to get two drinks in the time it took Admah to find the refreshment table. Holtz, who numbered Wilder among his acquaintances, knew him for a brilliantly endowed newspaper man on the town grade. Like many another his thirst had increased with prohibition. His recent history had been one of pleasant, gradual demotions until in 1922 he had descended from a managing editor's desk to a precarious position, euphemistically called Special Writer. This, he explained, seldom interfered with his drinking.

"Good mawin', Mistah Holtz," cried Jimmy. "You're just in time to keep me in countenance."

Admah glanced into one of the large bowls; a symmetrical iceberg floated in an amber sea of something.

"Punch?" he asked. He didn't care for punch.

"Not so much punch as kick," replied Jimmy. Then to the little negro with the white gloves, "Abso-lom, introduce Mistah Holtz to the liquor, and make it two."

Abso-lom ladled two glasses. Admah took his with a gulp. His smile broadened. It was a dry Martini cocktail.

"Since Derby day's gone dry the Colonel's taken to mixin' 'em in a bowl," explained Jimmy. "Abso-lom, this reminds me strongly of another." He raised his glass and heartily toasted St. Andrew of Minnesota.

Unused to drinking so early in the day, Admah was immediately and unpleasantly affected. Mrs. Atterbury, pledged to take him under her wing, led him from group to group. She showed pride in him as though he had been her son; and with him an air of success, he beamed with good fellowship. The Satusmas weren't so bad, after all. The young bloods shook him by the hand, invited him to drink; pretty young matrons rolled their eyes flirtatiously when he came their way; he found himself talking vivaciously, laughing a little too loud.

Mrs. Atterbury found him a place at a table for four. The others were Mrs. Ballinger, who had been Miss Hebe Savage before her recent marriage to the son of a rich financier; Jimmy Wilder, now reduced to a pleasant calm; and a Mrs. Eustone, who, had a candid census been taken of local society, should have given her occupation as that of official village gossip. All rose world around this busy little mind was one involved and naughty romance. While the ham and chicken disappeared from Spode plates, she regarded the company with an account of somebody who had been caught cheating at bridge and of somebody else who had been followed to St. Louis by his wife and a detective. The names were all a jumble to Admah Holtz. Socially inexperienced though he was, he wondered just what Mrs. Eustone would be saying about him. Then out of the mass of words a name came popping like a pebble out of a shaken bag. Margaret Peake.

"Of course, she can't help feeling bitter. But the Peakes had it comin' to them, if ever a family had. I hear she's in poor health, workin' in some little millinery shop."

"You've heard wrong, Miss Constance," Jimmy Wilder's eyes were like two live coals. "Miss Margaret is doin' a column on our woman's page. She's doin' right well, thank you."

"She certainly is," chimed little Mrs. Ballinger. "Peg isn't the kind that asks odds of anybody."

"Oh, then I was wrong," exclaimed Mrs. Eustone, backing water furiously after the manner of her kind. "But Flora Lee—"

Flora Lee's case rested for the time being because chairs were being pushed back from the tables, and Col. Atterbury's guests were hurrying toward their cars in order to be at the Downs for the famous fourth event. Admah drove to the track wondering about Flora Lee and Margaret Peake. Since his purchase of the bedroom furniture

HELPS FOR THE MOTHER

By EMILIE HOFFMAN.

TOO much is said nowadays about the bad effect of enforcing implicit obedience. It breaks the will of the child, making him dependent; it deprives him of the ability for self-assertion which is so useful in daily contact with others; it invests him of his individuality—these are some of the objections expressed.

These fallacies regarding obedience are mostly wrong interpretations of excellent ideas set forth by educators and psychologists of today. Such discipline as is expected by our grandparents may have some bad results.

Enforcing blind obedience is unwise training and is apt to have a disastrous trend. This do-it-be-cause-I-want-you-to attitude of our forefathers is rarely met with nowadays. Junior's "Why?" in those days might have brought the slipper in action, but today the wise mother gives the child the reason for her command.

Obedience is just as necessary today as it was a century ago and the mother who tells her baby not to touch an article and laughs when the child snatches it, instead of taking it away and rebuking the baby, is guilty of bad training.

When you give a command, be it ever so trivial, see that it is obeyed. Inconsistency in enforcing obedience is a fault of many mothers. One time they insist upon compliance; another time they are indifferent about it. Daughters have been told to come home directly after school. One day she comes in 15 minutes late and mother meets out a punishment. Another day the child arrives with fear and trembling, one hour after school closed and mother takes no notice of it. Of course, that child will frequently take a chance because she realizes her mother's displeasure or her punishment for disobedience depends entirely in what mood she happens to be.

Bringing the child to obey is a prevalent custom in many homes, but it is a very pernicious one. A well trained child will understand that obedience to parents is a filial duty and will cheerfully give it.

"I can't do anything with him," is an oft-heard remark and many mothers, probably to shame the culprit, will say: "Oh, he is a bad boy. He never does what I tell him to." A really willful child will not be made better by such remarks. On the contrary, this has the tendency to make him feel quite "smart." The thought that mother "can't get the best" of him is encouraging to the refractory child.

The habit of obedience, instilled at home, would do much to counteract the demeanor so strongly and generally criticized in the young folk we meet daily.

MEDITATIONS MARRIED WOMAN

By HELEN LAND

"I F—" is the first thing George Ade gives a lot of warnings for the man who is married.

Well, with apologies to the poet, here are a few "I F—" for the woman:

If you admit that you are in the new invisible stockings—

If you think that you are fat or too skinny for the sleekest dresses—

If you put your hair carefully, instead of just jamming it on from the back—

If you object to the usual, offhand way, by a man you have known for a long time—

If you still believe in the new invisible stockings—

If you are shocked when youth calls you "Darling" 30 minutes after the introduction—

If you admit that you are, instead of just in order to take the poem for a walk—

If you try to be both witty and considerate, instead of witty and snappy and considerate—

If you wear rubber shoes, go to church, and prefer cream to rum in your tea—

If you love poetry and information better than jazz—

If you speak of the "heart" instead of as your "Boy Friend," and call it a "grande passion"—

If you have any idea of men or marriage, if you do not use a lipstick, if you are a God made it—

If you wait for a man, instead of grabbing him by the curb-bit and running—

If you are too nervous—

If you have new high-heeled shoes, high blood pressure, a permanent wave, and a divorce—

Then, dear heart, be intelligent, charming, and only "over thirty," but not a "has-was"—if you don't watch out!

But, OH, how adorable you are, and how adorable you'll seem to a world full of men on the jazz-girl!

The Man on the Sandbox

OLD SONGS MADE NEW

O H. father, dear father, come home with me now, The clock in the steeple strikes one; You said you were coming right home from the shop As soon as your puzzle was done. The children are hungry and crying for bread And tradesmen demanding their pay; And mother declares that she won't go to bed Until she has worked it herself.

Oh, father, dear father, lay off of that stuff, An occasional one is all right, But you don't seem to know when you've had quite enough. And you want to keep at it all night. The secret addict is soon bound to become A slave to the popular fad; But, if you should split it four ways in the home It wouldn't be nearly so bad.

Before cross-word puzzles appeared on the scene, There never was anything wrong; The family circle was calm and serene And life flowed along like song. No sun-gods and cloths had appeared to disturb The peace of our ivy-green hut. And mother and you never had a cross word While lately you've had nothing but.

Yes, dear reader, we have noticed it and deplored our lack of a classical education. We're just out of luck, old top. As for the abbreviation of tin, would say that our "tin" as applied to money has always been more or less abbreviated.

FAVORITE STORIES

By Irvin S. Cobb

A LITTLE TRIBUTE TO HARVARD.

HEWED BROWN, the New York critic, is a Harvard man. One time he had occasion to review a book written by a Yale man, with another Yale man for its hero.

The hero was all a hero, too. He was the captain of the Yale football team and, according to the author, invincible on the field and magnificent off of it. For instance, in an early chapter it was told how the football captain while walking along a street of New Haven saw a little crippled newsboy try to cross the trolley tracks on his crutches just as a car came whizzing along. Suddenly the lad slipped on the icy asphalt and fell between the rails. He was about to be crushed beneath the wheels when the gallant collegian, at peril of his own life, leaped from the sidewalk, snatched the form of the helpless urchin up in his arms and bounded safely aside just as the car whizzed past.

Brown, in his review, quoted the description of this stirring scene and went on to say that it reminded him of a somewhat similar incident which occurred at Cambridge when he was an undergraduate there.

The conditions were almost identical, he said, except that it was a much larger type of interurban trolley. It was also traveling a little faster than it did in New Haven, and there was a small baby that fell right in front of the approaching car, when who should come along—not the captain of the Harvard team but merely the substitute end of the second eleven.

"Did he pick up the child from the track in front of the car?" Brown paused to ask.

"He did not. He tackled the trolley car and threw it back for a loss of ten yards."

NO SIGN OF THE INSECT.

"NOW, little children," said the Sunday school superintendent, pointing to a large lithograph in bright colors, "here we have a picture illustrating today's lesson. Today's lesson is about Lot."

"The Lord warned Lot to take his wife and daughters and flee away from Sodom. Here we see Lot and his daughters, and there just behind them is his wife and at the back we see the wicked city of Sodom, which is about to be destroyed."

"Now then, before we take up the lesson, is there any little boy or little girl who wants to ask a question?" A hand went up.

"Ah," said the superintendent, "Kathleen, wouldn't you like to ask me a question. What is it, Kathleen?"

GOV. DAVIS' SON CAUGHT TAKING $1250 FOR PARDON

Witnesses Confront Him After He Receives Money From Convicted Forger in Topeka Hotel.

GOVERNOR BRANDS IT AS A "FRAME-UP"

Declares He Had Already Decided to Grant Pardon and Son Was Inveigled Into Accepting Money.

By the Associated Press. TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 10.—It was in room 641 of the National Hotel here that Russell G. Davis, son of Gov. J. M. Davis of Kansas, accepted $1250 and delivered a pardon to Fred W. Pollman, convicted forger and former president of the Kansas County Bank at Lacygne, Kan., according to the revelation made by the Kansas City Journal.

In an adjoining room listening with headphones attached to a telephone connected with room 641 were W. C. Miller, State Representative of Belvidere, Kan.; a short-hand reporter and two members of the Journal staff. In room 641 was Pollman.

The ringing of a telephone in 641 at 11:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon broke the silence, according to the Journal's version of the affair. It was answered by Pollman, who said, "Yes, that is all right, send him on here."

A few moments and a knock was heard at 641 followed by voices. The conversation that followed was recorded by the instrument and published by The Journal in Kansas City today, those taking part being Pollman and Russell Davis. Pollman, replying to a suggestion in regard to mailing a pardon, is quoted as saying he wanted it delivered at the hotel, adding:

"It won't take long for you to go to the State House and bring me the paper. I want it right now. I don't know what that would create my suspicion—you coming back to the hotel, as they don't know me here." Pollman gave $1000 to Russell Davis at this time, according to the Journal, saying he would give the remaining $250 later.

Confronted by Witnesses. In answer to a question from Russell Davis as to whether he (Pollman) would be at the hotel when he returned, Pollman said:

"Yes, I will be right here in this room. Knock at the door and come right in. I will be right here, reading my Bible. I usually do so when I have time to kill."

Russell Davis returned to the hotel about 4 p. m. with the pardon, according to the Journal's story. The remainder of the pardon of the 1930 was made at that time, the Journal said, and it was then that Pollman made the denouement, several biblical verses were read to Russell Davis by Pollman, the Journal story says, and then Pollman "quoted as having said:

"Now this is what I am going to say to you. I have written it on paper so I wouldn't forget it. Russell, I am indeed sorry your father, the Governor, has extended this money from me. I have considered all along that he could release me on the merits and the facts in my case and that he was my friend. Evidently what he is doing in my case has been going on for some time. Your father says I am not a thief, or a crook. I was only when he requested that I employ you that I considered it the opportune time to do what I was now doing. My friends in the adjoining room have heard every word and have known every move I made now on you can talk to them."

The four men in the adjoining room thereupon walked into 641 and confronted the Governor's son.

Says It Was "Frame-up." The scene was maintained by members of the Governor's family, this being with respect to the alleged pardon. Gov. Davis was in private conference in his office, while Russell Davis, at the executive mansion, had been waiting.

At midnight last night when the Governor was aroused and questioned as to the report that Russell Davis had caught receiving the pardon, signed yesterday morning by the Governor, Russell Davis said his son, the executive secretary, had been in the hotel room 641 of the National Hotel, Topeka, Kan., and had received a pardon from the Governor.

The Governor's son, Russell Davis, was arrested and taken to the State House, where he was held in custody.
